

Hoover Plans Careful Study Of Market's Collapse

STABILITY IN FUTURE, AIM OF PRESIDENT

Intends to Appoint Commission from All Fields of Endeavor Involved

Washington—(AP)—To achieve a greater degree of economic stability for the future, President Hoover is planning an exhaustive study of the stock market collapse of last year, the boom period which preceded it and the depression which followed.

If his project meets with general approval, the chief executive intends to institute the inquiry when the present situation "clears a little." He expects the investigation to contemplate the appointment of a commission representing the various fields of endeavor involved.

Mr. Hoover made this known last night in delivering an address before the chamber of commerce of the United States, in which he also expressed the opinion that the worst effects of the crash are now past with a renewed prosperity lying just ahead.

The chief executive described the study of the depression of 1921 which he undertook as secretary of commerce and told how the experience of nearly a decade ago had been applied to countering the business decline of the last few months.

The development of our credit system, our statistics, our methods of security and relief in depression all show progress, he said.

AIM OF INQUIRY

"But," he said, "the whole range of our experiences from this boom and slump should be placed under examination with a view to broad determination of what can be done to achieve greater stability for the future, both in prevention and remedy. If such an exhaustive examination meets with general approval, when the situation clears a little, I propose to organize a body representative of business, economics, labor, and agriculture—to undertake it."

"I do believe our experience shows we can produce helpful and wholesome effects in our economic state by a voluntary cooperation through the great associations representative of business, industry, labor, and agriculture, both national and local."

The president said that in his opinion the intensity of the speculative boom which reached its climax in the crash of last fall was as great or greater than that of "any of our earlier manias before," but that the intensity of the slump which followed it had been greatly diminished by the efforts made to counteract it.

He went on to describe the program undertaken by the government in cooperation with business leaders and then he said:

"We have succeeded in maintaining confidence and courage. We have avoided monetary panic and credit stringency. These dangers are behind us. From the moment of the crash, interest rates have steadily decreased and capital has become steadily more abundant. Our investment markets have absorbed over two billions of new securities since the crash. There has been no significant bank or industrial failure. That danger, too, is safely behind us."

One great need, the president said, is complete and reliable statistics at all times on the extent of unemployment. The present census, he added, will provide this for the first time.

JAPANESE LAUNCH CRUISER MAY 12

Elaborate Naval Ceremony Will Be Held When New Craft Puts to Sea

Yokosuka, Japan—(AP)—In the presence of the Empress Nagako, presiding for the first time at such a ceremony, the 10,000-ton cruiser Takao will be launched May 12 at the naval arsenal of Yokosuka, principal base of the Japanese navy.

This will be the most elaborate naval festivity of its kind in Japan since the launching of capital ships, and the launching of capital ships, and the Yokosuka will be credited with the most grand and decorations the highest dignitaries of the navy and other branches of the imperial government.

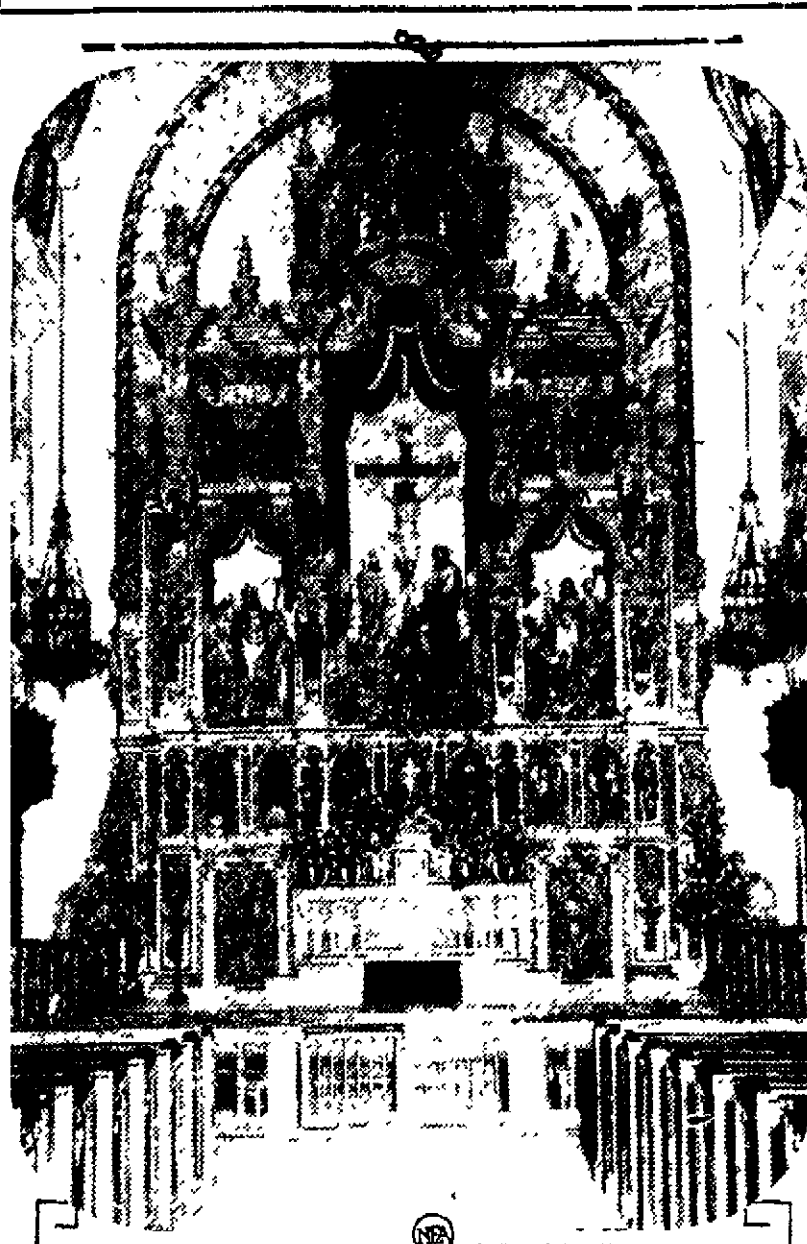

The Takao, laid down in April, 1927, is the fifth of her class. The sixth of this sisterhood, the Atago is scheduled for launching at the Kure naval base, June 15. She also was started in April, 1927. Both should be completed within a year after launching.

Although the London conference succeeded in placing relatively low limits for the American, British and Japanese cruiser fleets, the London treaty means for Japan, as for the United States, an actual increase of her present cruiser tonnage. Hence the launching program which the Japanese navy had in hand when the conference was called has gone forward without slackening. That programs provisions for cruisers carrying eight guns will be completed to full giving Japan the 108,100 tons to which the treaty limits her in this category.

Even before this building is finished Japanese shipyards saved from two years of idleness by concessions granted by Japan for that express purpose will begin work on 50,855 tons of light cruisers which the London agreement permits Japan to place on the ways before the end of 1931.

These 108,100 tons of cruisers will be built in such a way that they will be able to carry 10,000 tons of cargo.

Doheny's Memorial to Slain Son

This high altar, almost unprecedented in the modern age in its art execution has been erected by J. L. Doheny, the multimillionaire oil man, in St. Vincent's church, Los Angeles, as a memorial to his son, J. L. Doheny, Jr., murdered two years ago. The altar and two shrine, and a chapel also given by Doheny, cost $500,000.

Friends And Foes Claim Gains In Parker Fight

Washington—(AP)—Both friends and opponents of Judge J. L. Parker claimed voting gains today in the senate's struggle over the justice's nomination as an associate justice of the supreme court.

The opposition, in particular, was more than ever confident of the outcome and its leaders let it be known they were ready for a vote at any time.

Although regarding the outlook as more hopeful, the administration group, which is defending the nomination against charges of prejudice from labor and Negro organizations, indicated a preference to vote be postponed until Monday.

The senate will not be in session tomorrow and thus, should adjournment tonight find the issue still unsettled, the roll call will go over to next week.

The protest against Parker came from the American Federation of Labor and the Society for the Advancement of Colored People.

The former contended that in rendering a decision restraining the unions from soliciting employees who had signed so-called "yellow dog" contracts, binding themselves not to become affiliated with organized labor, Judge Parker revealed a prejudice against the working man. The Negro organization based its protest upon remarks attributed to Parker in a campaign speech in 1921, which it contended showed a bias against the Negro race.

The labor complaint and particularly the question of whether Parker was bound to follow a previous decision of the supreme court on the "yellow dog" contract has been the basis of much of the senate's debate, now in its fifth day.

Bound up in this question is the contention of the opposition that to confirm Parker would unduly confirm the majority of conservative opinion of the supreme bench, an issue which was at the bottom of the controversy over the confirmation of Chief Justice Hughes.

Senator Borah, independent Republican, Idaho, is the acknowledged leader of the opposition and has been supported in debate by Wagner of New York, Walsh of Montana, and McKellar of Tennessee, all Democrats.

Senator Fess of Ohio, has acted as spokesman for the administration group. Herbert of Rhode Island and Hatfield of West Virginia and Hastings of Delaware, have joined him in urging Judge Parker's confirmation.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS PLAN FOR CONVENTION

Plans for the 1930 convention of Spanish American War Veterans, to be held here June 26, 27 and 28, were discussed at a meeting of the general committee in charge at Armory G Thursday evening. Louis Jeske presided in place of W. H. Zuehlke, general chairman, who was out of the city.

It is expected between 2,000 and 3,000 people will attend the three-day conference. Special committees will be appointed during the next week to take charge of street decorations, convention halls and other meeting places, banquet and other details.

According to a scientist's estimate, noise causes a loss of more than $5,000,000 a week to English workers by impairing their efficiency.

missioned (the Fumitaka, Aoba, Kaga and Kinugasa, 7,100 tons each, and the Nachi, Myoko, Ashigara and Haguro, 10,000 tons each). The Takao and Atago and two more 10,000-tonners now in their second year of construction (the Chokai and Maya) which should be finished before the end of 1932.

FOND DU LAC GETS READY FOR RESERVE OFFICERS ROUND-UP

Civilian and Civilian Notables Will Attend Affair Tomorrow

Fond du Lac—(AP)—Military events attended by notables of civilian and military life both from Wisconsin and outside of the state will comprise the program for the annual spring round-up and contact camp of the Wisconsin Reserve Officers' association which will be held here tomorrow.

Officers of the Fond du Lac chapter declare the event will be the most elaborate in the annals of the state organization.

The military features of the round-up will include machine gun maneuvers by Company M 127th Infantry, National Guard, of Fond du Lac, during which four guns using blank ammunition will go through battle tactics and an elaborate program of drill competitions in which squads from the University of Wisconsin, University of Minnesota, St. Thomas Military Academy of St. Paul, Northwestern Military academy of Lake Geneva and St. John's Military academy of Delafield will take part.

In addition, the official Honor Guard of the Governor of Wisconsin, picked outfit which paraded in the Hoover funeral parade as escort for Gov. Kohl, will give a demonstration drill. A formal guard-mount with all the units participating will conclude the event.

Reserve officers in charge of the program received at 10 o'clock Tuesday from Major General Frank Parker, Sixth army corps area commander, intimating that three places of pure sport, bombing and observation type would be sent to the round-up to add an aerial flavor.

During the "school" sessions of the round-up, Major General Parker will be the principal speaker, although several classes will be held during the day under instructors in various branches of military work.

Among the notables who have already indicated that they will come here for the occasion, addition to Gen. Parker, are Major General Charles King of Milwaukee, Dean of Wisconsin military officers, Dr. Silas M. Evans, president of Ripon college, and Mrs. Walter Kohl, wife of the admiral and Mrs. W. S. Crozier of the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

Preparations are being made to accommodate several hundred reserve officers from all parts of the state. A wide military features of the program will be staged at the county fair grounds, where several civilians are expected to be speakers.

CASE IS SETTLED IN CIRCUIT COURT

Plaintiff to Get $300 from Three Defendants—Fourth Pays Nothing

After testimony had been taken in the suit for $9,000 damages brought by Henry W. Ulmen, former town of Ellington farmer, against O. J. Simon, Frank M. Blumkin and Joseph Kuska, Green Bay, and George A. John, Stephensville, a settlement was reached in the matter shortly after noon. The case was being tried in circuit court before Judge Edgar V. Weiner.

Under the settlement Ulmen is to receive $300 each from Simon, Blumkin and John Kuska does not pay anything.

This case had previously been tried under a charge of fraud and misrepresentation and it was dismissed by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court. The dismissal was upheld by the state supreme court. The second suit was brought on charges of conspiracy to do fraud.

The case grew out of a land deal by which Ulmen traded his farm in Ellington for a house in Crandon. He charged that the realty men had agreed to pay debts totaling $9,000 as part of the deal. They denied there was any such agreement.

Apple Sauce Recipe

Pare, core and quarter several juicy, sour apples. Put them in a saucepan and cook with just enough water to keep them from burning. Add a dash of cinnamon and a little lemon juice. Cool and serve.

You only need one guess. Sugar is missing. And if you add sugar "to taste" just before you take your apple sauce from the stove, you will have the utmost in flavorful goodness.

Very often you wonder how to improve foods which are lacking in flavor or appetite-appeal. In most cases a dash of sugar is all that is necessary. This is especially true in the preparation of vegetables. Just try a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt in cooking spinach, carrots, string beans, tomatoes and peas. You'll be surprised at the way sugar improves the distinctive flavor of each vegetable.

When you consider that vegetables, cereals and fruit are essential in the diet for the vitamins, mineral salts and roughage they contain, you will realize the importance of making these foods appeal to the appetites of young and old. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

FEWER PEOPLE RIDING STREET CARS, IT SEEMS

Madison—(AP)—People who formerly rode street cars are either walking or using autos and buses now according to Dudley Montgomery, vice president of the Madison Rail ways company.

In announcing that representatives of the company will appear before the railroad commission this month to set a rate increase, Mr. Montgomery said that during the first quarter of 1929 there were 319,000 less passengers than during the same period a year ago. He also said the company fares a loss of 600,000 passengers this year as compared with 1929.

A flat rate of 10 cents per passenger will be asked. At present the company sells 15 tokens for one dollar and three for 35 cents.

CHURCH AFFAIRS QUIET THIS WEEK AS LENT PASSES

Several Congregations Hold Meetings to Plan Year's Activities

With Lenten meetings and Easter celebrations put aside for another year, church activities have been unusually quiet. Several churches held congregational meetings during the week and a postponed Easter cantata was presented Sunday night at Emanuel Evangelical church.

Members of St. Paul congregation decided at a quarterly meeting on Sunday to begin collecting money for the redecoration of the church and the installation of a new organ although it is not planned to effect the improvements for two years. The Ladies Aid met Thursday afternoon.

The annual meeting of the Baptist congregation was held Tuesday evening, a special meeting of the First Reformed congregation was held Thursday evening, and the congregation of Mount Olive church met Sunday afternoon. The Ladies Aid of the Reformed church met at the home of Mrs. George Glassbier Thursday afternoon.

The Rev. M. Dent of Oshkosh preached at the morning service at the congregational church Sunday and the Rev. Lyle Douglas, Utr, Utr, Pa., had charge of the service at All Saints church on Sunday.

The Oxford Fellowship club of Lavacore college had charge of services at the German Methodist Episcopal church Sunday. The sermon was preached by John Ginkosky. The Rev. L. C. Reuter preached the eighth of a series of sermons on the doctrines of the Bible at First English Lutheran church Sunday. The Ladies society met Thursday afternoon.

A three act play, "Skidding" was given at St. Joseph hall Sunday evening, under the auspices of the Young Ladies society.

Three topics "Luther's Debate Bills" were delivered at the Bible class meeting at St. Matthew church Tuesday evening.

The Women's Union of St. John Evangelical church met Thursday afternoon, as did the Guild of Timely English Lutheran church. The music club of the Methodist church will select its name at a meeting Friday evening.

THREE SPEAKERS AT TOASTMASTERS' CLUB

William A. Strassburger, John Watson and G. A. Sell, were speakers at the Toastmasters' club meeting Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The toastmaster was Leslie Eulman.

Revision of the fish laws and the fishing license law were discussed by Mr. Strassburger. Business and the Toast was reviewed by Mr. Watson and Mr. Sell talked on the Agricultural Agent. The meeting began with a dinner at 6:15.

BUILDING PERMITS

Two building permits were issued Thursday by John N. Weiland, building inspector. They were granted to Joseph Hummermann, 1332 N. Eighth st., two car garage, cost $240 and C. Kasten, 511 S. Mueller-st., one car garage, cost $225.

Talkies Running Around In Circles, Lena Admits

By JESSIE HENDERSON Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press Hollywood, Calif.—(CPA)—

Take the case of Lena Malena. If you think the talkies are not running round in circles—Just look at that girl, as a lot of people did all over Europe till she came here from Bucharest without any backing except her own talent.

Lena Malena is a dancer in what ever language you please, but she talked only German. After a couple of small parts, she was headed for topnotch fame when the screen broke into speech.

You remember? First they scrapped all the people who didn't speak American. Then they scrapped all the Americans who didn't speak English. Then they howled for Bostons who could talk like gangsters.

Lena Malena began to study English. She had gone through adverbs and reached participles when the talkies started to yell for actors who could make love in three languages. Lena Malena paid no attention; went right on with her English lessons. She was all tangled up in collective nouns by the time the talkies let out a roar for any players of any nationality who could talk any English with any foreign accent.

Yet Lena Malena ploughed steadily onward through prepositions and similes. She was in euphemisms and metaphors by the time, quite recently, that the talkies began making loud singers out of good actors, and actors out of good singers, hoofers out of each and monks out of both, with a result often as much like esperanto as anything.

But at last Lena Malena had mastered the English tongue. She even knew that an eel is an eel in New York and an eel is an eel in Brooklyn.

As she laid down the grammar book with a sigh, M. G. M. sent for her.

90 PAPER MILL MEN THROWN OUT OF WORK

Approximately ninety men were thrown out of work recently when the Tomahawk Pulp and Paper company at Tomahawk was placed in the hands of a receiver. The court order was issued on behalf of the First Trust company of this city, in an action at Merrill.

219 MEASLES CASES IN CITY LAST MONTH

There were 219 cases of measles in Appleton during April, a checkup of the records of Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer, reveals. The number this month will be far below April's total, says Mr. Sanders, as improved weather conditions and more fresh air will serve to check the spread of the disease.

New York—Helen Mills (such is the name she prefers in art) has sold 39 water color sketches shown in her first exhibition for $100 each.

The fruit market is quoted as follows: Limes, 50 cents a dozen; coconuts, 10 to 20 cents each; Florida oranges, 50 to 60 cents a dozen; California oranges, 40 to 50 cents a dozen; bananas, 10 cents a pound, and three pounds for 25 cents; lemons, 50 cents a dozen; grapes, 25 cents a pound; grape fruit, 10 to 15 cents each; strawberries, 20 to 25 cents a quart; raspberries, 35 cents a pound carton; tangerines, 50 cents a dozen; pears, 10 cents each; and pomgranates, 10 cents each.

BANNISTER DANCERS TO REPEAT REVUE TONIGHT

The first performance of the annual Bannister Dance revue was held at the Fox theatre in conjunction with the regular program Thursday evening.

Seven group dances were presented, and 10 specialty numbers. Beatrice Bosser, Jean Humphrey, and Betty Rosenbohm presented "Hans, Gretche und Fritz." Dolores Tustison "L'Algon." Beatrice Bosser, "Sweet or than Sweet." Leone Tenneson, "Paso Doble." Dolores Tustison and Beatrice Bosser, "Come le Va." Jean Humphrey, "Toxy Stomp." Beth Ann Rosenbohm, "Fascinating Waltz." Margaret Plank, Dolores Tustison and Leone Tenneson, "M'Zelles Petite." Marion Krachold and Arlene Bosser, "The Courtship of Harlequin." and Virginia Hosenood, guest artist, "Spirito Gentile."

Dances and ensembles were originated by Hazel Bannister, and effects and settings were designed by J. E. Bannister.

The Revue will be given again Friday evening and as a matinee at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

"IT WAS KONJOLA THAT PUT ME ON ROAD TO HEALTH"

Green Bay Man Says New Medicine Relieved Him After He Had Suffered for Two Years

MR. GEORGE Z. GOFFARD

"Ever since a severe illness of December 1927 I have been a sufferer from stomach trouble and nervousness," said Mr. George Z. Goffard, 924 South Irwin street, Green Bay. "Whenever I put anything into my stomach I bloated and suffered from accumulated gas. I lost strength, energy and vitality because my food did not nourish me properly. My nerves were unstrung and there was a nervous twitching in my face that was very annoying. I tried many medicines in an effort to find relief."

"It was Konjola and Konjola alone, that put me back on the road to health. My digestion has improved so much since taking this medicine that I now feel hungry most of the time. My nerves no longer produce that annoying twitching of my face. Gas no longer forms in my stomach. My strength and energy have returned to an amazing degree and the distress of the past years is fast becoming a disagreeable memory."

Konjola is not a "Cure-all." There is no such thing. When taken for from six to eight weeks this medicine produces amazing results. The countless thousands of endorsements of Konjola prove that it makes good in the most stubborn cases.

Konjola is sold in Appleton, Wis., at Schlicht's Bros. Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Sings in Opera

David Scoular, student artist at Lawrence Conservatory and a popular soloist in Appleton and other Wisconsin cities, will sing the role of the High Priest in the production of the opera "Samson and Delilah" at Lawrence Memorial chapel Friday evening. Earl Miller, Bass, will sing the role of Abimelech, and two soloists from Chicago will present the other two solo parts. Schola Cantorum, directed by Dean Carl J. Waterman, will do the chorus work.

FIFTH ANNUAL FIREMEN BALL IS NEXT WEEK

Plans for the fifth annual firemen's ball, sponsored by the local fire department, have been completed, according to Joseph Drexler, chairman of the committee on arrangements. Special invitations to the affair have been extended to all firemen of departments in valley cities. The event is to be staged at Cinderella hall room, on the Lake Road, Thursday evening, May 8. Gil Horst's orchestra is to furnish the music for the dance. Paul Neuman and Elmer Brockman are other members of the arrangements committee.

P. T. A. WILL ELECT OFFICERS NEXT WEEK

The annual election of officers will be held Tuesday evening at the meeting of the Roosevelt Parent Teachers association. The meeting is being held one week earlier so the parents can take advantage of the time to see the cantata, "Awakening of Spring" being given Tuesday night at the school as a part of the National Music week program. A mixed chorus will sing a group of numbers in addition to the cantata.

COUNTY COMMITTEES TO MEET NEXT WEEK

The county board building and grounds committee will meet Tuesday afternoon at the courthouse, according to John E. Hantschel, county clerk. Routine business matters will be transacted. On Wednesday afternoon the members of the sanatorium building committee will meet at the sanatorium at Little Chute.

The Hottest Band in Town! Chicken Lunch, Sat. Night, Golden Eagle.

APPLETON ARTISTS WILL SING ROLES IN OPERA TONIGHT

Earl Miller and David Scoular to Appear in
"Samson, Delilah"

Two local artists, Earl Miller, bass, and David Scoular, tenor, will sing two of the solo roles in "Samson and Delilah." Saint-Saens famous opera to be presented as the first number of the annual Music Festival at Lawrence Memorial chapel Friday evening. The chorus work will be done by Schola Cantorum of Lawrence college, a chorus of 200 mixed voices, directed by Dean Carl J. Waterman, and the other two solo roles will be done by two artists from Chicago, Eva Gordon Horadesky, contralto, and Eugene Drexler, tenor. The dramatic and inspiring opera will be one of the most difficult productions ever attempted by a local group, but industry and practice and an unusual amount of talent in Schola Cantorum this year gives the director confidence that the performance will far exceed anything done in the past.

CHARGE LOCAL MAN JUMPED ARTERIAL

John Kasporik, 323 W. Eighth, was arrested Thursday night by Fred Arndt, motorcycle officer, on a charge of jumping an arterial at the corner of Mason and Prospect ave. He is to appear in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg Friday afternoon to answer charges.

The second program of the Music Festival will be given at the chapel Sunday evening, when Percy Fullinwider will present his Conservatory Symphony orchestra in a group of symphonic numbers. The A Cappella choir directed by Dean Waterman will also be on the program. This performance is free to the public.

Tickets for tonight's performance are on sale at Bellini's drug store and by members of three musical societies at the Conservatory.

SHOWS SOVIET BACKS RIOTS AND STRIKES

Documents Seized by Police Commissioner Whalen's Secret Police

New York (AP)—Police Commissioner Whalen today made public photostats of Russian documents seized by his secret police which he declared showed the Communist International of Moscow was directly responsible for the fomenting of strikes and riots in the United States. There are no references in the documents to expenditures for outbreaks and support of strikers.

One of the documents is on the letterhead of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, official purchasing agent in the United States for the Soviet government. It has offices in New York and has transacted hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of business in this country.

This letter lists the names of thirty men and women sent to New York by Moscow as being hard to replace and states that the recall of any one of them might result in a serious handicap in the work.

Commissioner Whalen said the list of 30 names includes that of one Delagass, whom he described as the most dangerous of the undercover criminal secret police of Moscow and one time personal secretary to Dzerzhinsky, organizer of the Russian cheka.

Whalen also called attention to the importance given in the documents to Boris Skvinsky, "head and official Soviet ambassador," and head of the Russian information bureau at Washington. Skvinsky, he said, is revealed as handling the funds for the "Amtorg O. G. P. U. section."

He explained the O. G. P. U. was "the undercover criminal secret police of Moscow with branches operating in all countries."

DUE TO STRIKES

The commissioner said the attention of the police department was drawn to the activities of the Communists through the number of unnecessary and violent strikes which the representatives of labor declared to be backed by the Russian Soviet government.

The documents seized by the police are in the Russian language but English translations were furnished by Commissioner Whalen. He said the documents reached this country by courier.

One document dated from Moscow, Jan. 3, 1930, and addressed to "Comrade G. Grefen." He is directed to establish temporary headquarters at Seattle, as manager of the Seattle branch of the Amtorg Trading Corporation and that "archives from illegal work must be sent to Moscow by freight boat."

"Between the 15th and 26th of March," the instructions continue, "you will have to call in Seattle a reunion of all our general representatives which must receive instructions. Literature for organization of the first May outbreaks from you and sums of money from Comrade Skvinsky who continues to be in charge of the financial department."

Attached to the letter is a list of 25 persons being sent from Russia to be distributed by Grefen as follows: New York, seven; Massachusetts, three; Illinois, three; North Carolina, three; South Carolina, one; Pennsylvania, three; Connecticut, one; Michigan, two; Georgia, two.

CALLS PAPERS FORGERIES
Washington (AP)—Documents made public today by Police Commissioner Whalen of New York purporting to show the Communist International of Moscow was fomenting disorders in the United States were called forgeries by Boris Skvinsky, director of the Soviet information bureau at Washington.

Skvinsky expressed a hope the documents would be thoroughly investigated by federal authorities. He denied all assertions in the papers that his organization was handling funds for a Russian secret service in this country.

Skvinsky said official information coming to him indicated the same purported official documents had been offered for sale for publication in New York for several weeks and had for their purpose the disruption of Soviet relations with America.

SALVATION ARMY TO CONVENE IN NEW YORK

Milwaukee (AP)—Officers of the Salvation Army from many Wisconsin and Upper Michigan cities will attend the Golden Jubilee National Congress of the Army which is to be held in New York from May 16 to 23, inclusive, according to announcement at divisional headquarters here today.

The Wisconsin-Upper Michigan delegation will include Capt. and Mrs. Ralph Norris of La Crosse, Wis.; Capt. and Mrs. Theodore Richter, Green Bay, Wis.; Adj. and Mrs. O. K. The congress will open with a historical program on Friday night, May 16, at the Lincoln Hotel, and will be followed by a series of religious services in the United States.

TWO KIDS BORN TO MOM AND POP GOATS AT PARK

Two kids were born at Alicia park Wednesday, and for once the word "kids" is used with proper respect for its original meaning. The proud parents are the Mom and Pop goats in the Alicia park zoo.

An elaborate christening ceremony is being planned by Carl Becker, city clerk, who was instrumental in securing the goats for the park last summer.

JURY SAYS WIDOWER DEFRAUDED HIS WIFE

Holds Man Must Return $4,000 to Estate—Judge Must Approve Verdict

A jury in municipal court Thursday afternoon, after about two hours deliberation, decided that Anton Gitter, Hortonsville, had obtained $4,000 from his wife before her death in 1927 in a fraudulent manner and that he should be made to turn that amount back to her estate. This verdict, however, must be approved by Judge Theodore Berg, who presided in the case. The judge is to hear arguments later for judgment and for setting aside the verdict.

Suit was brought against Gitter by Frank Hoffman, town of Dale, administrator of Gitter's wife's estate. It was charged that Gitter fraudulently secured the cash which his wife had previously inherited from a former husband. Before her marriage Mrs. Gitter had been the wife of John Hoffman, who died in 1916. In 1921 Mrs. Hoffman married Gitter.

Gitter claimed his wife had given him the money of her own free will and he asked dismissal of the suit. The case went to the jury at noon.

IDEAL WEATHER TO PREVAIL SATURDAY

Although the shower of Thursday night took on the aspect of a typical cloudburst, only .37 inches of rain fell, according to George Allanson, meteorologist.

Clear and official weatherman for this district. Over twice that much rain fell during the shower Wednesday afternoon, the total rainfall being recorded at .88 inches.

Ideal weather conditions are on the weather menu for this vicinity for the next 24 hours, according to the weatherman. Skies will remain clear and the mercury is due for another rise.

Winds are shifting in the west and southwest, promising good weather. At 6 o'clock this morning the mercury registered 51 degrees above zero and at noon it registered 62 degrees, 10 degrees lower than Thursday noon.

APPLETON ATTENDS HIGHWAY MEETING

Frank Appleton, county highway commissioner, was at Green Bay Friday where he attended a meeting of the highway commissioners of the district. He was also at the Wisconsin state divisional office, D. S. Culbertson, state engineer in charge of this district, had charge of the meeting at which maintenance costs, improvements and other road problems were discussed.

SCHEDULE COMMISSION HEARING AT KAUKAUNA

A hearing to determine which of three electric companies has the right to furnish electric power to Kaukauna city hall at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, May 7, according to a notice received by the Kaukauna city clerk from the Wisconsin Railroad commission. The three utilities seeking the privileges are the Kaukauna municipal plant, the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., and the South Shore utility.

GENERAL WEATHER
A deep "low" with its center over Lake Huron this morning caused thunderstorms, considerable rain and high wind over the lake region and upper Mississippi valley during the past 24 hours. A maximum velocity of 45 miles per hour was recorded at Buffalo, N. Y. It is somewhat cooler this morning in the lake region and Mississippi valley, due to high pressure which extends from the Gulf states. Fair and cooler is expected in this section tonight and Saturday.

OVER SCORE LOSE LIVES IN TORNADO

other women leaped from the car and ran to higher ground, escaping the river of water that poured and covered the stalled machine.

A storm of tornado dimensions struck Wabasha and Steelecos in southern Minnesota, destroying small farm buildings and doing other property damage estimated at $100,000.

Telephone and telegraph service was disrupted all over Wisconsin. Objects blown through the air snapped wires; the last heat others down. Several high-tension power lines were broken. Special crews were sent out to repair the damage, which appeared second only that was caused in last year's severe sleet storms.

Chicago (AP)—Angry weather stormed through the middle west late yesterday killing over 20 persons, injuring many and destroying property valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars. Seven of the dead were women.

The storms bounded up and down erratically in a territory including nine states. Nebraska, Minnesota and Missouri were hardest hit, but the destructiveness of the wind and driving rains was also felt in the Dakotas, Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois. The deaths were distributed in eight states.

Four persons were killed at Tekamah, Neb. A farmer was struck dead by lightning near Lawton, N. D.

Two women and a child were drowned near Lake City, Minn., when a cloudburst sent a wall of water down a ravine upon their stalled automobile.

Two women died when their automobile skidded in a storm near Duluth, Minn.

A boy was killed at Westby, Wis., when the tornado overtook him as he ran before it, seeking the shelter of his home. He was buried in the debris of a building the storm leveled.

A man in a parked automobile at Parkland, Ill., was killed when the wind blew down a tree that crushed the machine.

A farmer was killed at Kickapoo, Kan., when a cloudburst struck.

Four persons, including one woman and a 10-year-old girl, died in the tornado at Darnestown, Mo.

A man was killed near Antioch, Ill., when wind blew down his lake cottage and crushed him beneath it.

Charles W. Barnett, 31, a truck driver for the Merchants Transfer and Storage company of Des Moines, Iowa, was electrocuted when he drove into a high voltage wire blown down just east of Galesburg, Ill., on the Galesburg-Knoxville road.

FIND BOY'S BODY

The victim cut a block-wide swath through Westby, town of 1,200 in Vernon-co., young Plunk was just turning out of a restaurant on his way home when the whole brick building collapsed. Volunteer firemen found his body in the wreckage which covered main street. The property damage was estimated at $100,000.

Dozens of freak happenings, which always accompany wind storms, were reported today. At Kenosha, a concert garage was blown over the adjoining house and set down in the front yard. At Westby, a tobacco warehouse was lifted from its foundation and hurled against the walls of the Milwaukee road depot. In rock-co an auto was blown on top of a gang plow.

Associated Press reports showed the following damage around principal Wisconsin cities.

Kenosha—Ice house 200 feet long blown down at Silver Lake; wire torn; flying building snapped high tension line.

Oshkosh—Seven men in two boats thrown into Fox river, forced to hang on bridge supports for half an hour before rescuers reached them by tearing up planking. Joe Bloesch nearly drowned in attempt to rescue fishermen. Dozens of barns and silos blown down all over Winnebago-co.

Twenty-two cattle trapped, one horse killed when barn blown down on farm of Milton Jones, six miles from town.

Stevens Point—Five thousand dollars damage done when hail broke windows in greenhouse; total $10,000 damage in city. One halibone picked up so large it could not be put in a teakettle, dozens more than inch in diameter.

Eau Claire—Little damage. Telephone poles blown down. Some roads temporarily blocked by streams of water.

Wisconsin Rapids—Heavy rain but no hail, little damage.

Janesville—Damage near $10,000 around Footville, Rock-co.

Calumet-co—Damage believed to be $30,000 with at least six large barns wrecked. Ten cows killed. Storm struck at 10 o'clock p. m.

Woolworth—Heavy but unestimated damage. Residents of Elkhorn told of a peculiar occurrence. The stars and moon were showing, the residents said, when suddenly there was a terrific clap of thunder. At the same time sparks shot off electric lines.

Milwaukee—North Shore Interurban trains tied up by fallen poles. Seventy-five beefs smothered at brewery fell to ground, hundreds of windows blown in.

Considerable livestock was lost in the storm around Waukegan, Ill. Many roofs were blown off of buildings and power lines and poles were down. The fatality near Antioch, on Channahon lake, was Richard Shum, 20 years old. Taken from beneath his

Haitian President

New president of Haiti is Eugene Roy, above, whom President Hoover's commission, which recently visited the strife-ridden island republic, had recommended for election. Roy received the unanimous vote of the Haitian Council of State and will take office next month at the expiration of the term of President Louis Dorno.

wrecked cottage by firemen, he died in a Waukegan hospital early today.

In the Chicago area, the brunt of the storm was felt in suburban Beverly Hills where property damage of $100,000 was reported.

The first aftermath fatality resulted early today. Michael Keaty, an electrician, fell to his death while repairing a power line in Cicero, a suburb.

Superior—No damage, hail storm at Barron, Rice Lake.

Fond du Lac—Little damage, heavy hail storm.

Sheboygan—At least six barns blown over. Macy Power and Light lines crippled with parts of Sheboygan in darkness for several hours last night.

Manitowoc-co—Northeastern section of county hard hit, many barns blown down.

6 DIE IN 2 STATES

St. Paul, Minn.—(AP)—Flood waters, lightning and accidents killed six people in Minnesota and North Dakota during a series of electrical and heavy rain storms yesterday. A tornado also caused damage in southern Minnesota.

A 15-foot wall of water that trapped them on a road in a valley near Lake City, Minn., drowned two women and a child, lightning killed a man near North Dakota, and an accident killed two near Duluth.

Mrs. W. W. Lawler, her daughter, Betty Jane, and Mrs. Walter Dodge, all of Rochester, Minn., were caught in the deluge of water which swept down from the hills after a cloudburst near Lake City. Two other women who saw the wall of water coming, managed to reach safety by fleeing to higher ground.

Carl Lorenz, 31, farmer, was struck by lightning and killed near Lawton, N. D.

Maude Coyne, Hibbing, and Ruth Newman, Two Harbors, were killed when their automobile skidded off a highway near Duluth during a storm.

LITTLE DAMAGE IN IOWA

Des Moines—(AP)—The aftermath of the tornado that swept the middle-west last night found comparatively little damage done in Western Iowa, the only spot in the state that felt the effects of the general storm disturbance.

Accompanied by considerable rain and hail, the tornado visited outside of Spencer, near Sioux City, demolishing the farm buildings of J. J. Ribbel.

Nearer the Missouri border line at Corydon another tornado destroyed every building on the farm of Charles Smith, whose family escaped injury by finding refuge in a storm cave.

Reports from western Iowa reveal the loss of several head of horses and cattle following severe electrical disturbances and unusual wind velocity.

RED CROSS ON JOB

St. Louis, Mo.—(AP)—The American Red Cross, through its midwestern branch headquarters here, moved today to speed relief work in communities hit by yesterday's tornadoes in nine middle western states.

Three disaster relief workers were dispatched last night to direct relief work. Reports today indicate that local Red Cross chapters will be able to cope with local situations.

The Red Cross reported the most serious situations was at Tekamah, Neb., where four were killed, many injured and great property damage was caused. Mrs. E. R. Ellis, attached to the local office, has taken charge of relief work there, aided by R. A. Shepard, another disaster relief worker, from St. Louis. They reported considerable damage in rural Nebraska communities in the vicinity of Tekamah and Homer.

Walter Over, from St. Louis, was at Kansas City today to organize relief work in Missouri and Kansas.

MANY ARE HOMELESS

Kansas City—(AP)—Scores of families were homeless today, the result of a series of three tornadoes in rural communities of Kansas and Missouri that last night snuffed out at least five lives and injured more than 20 persons.

Thousands of dollars of damage was suffered by property owners. The tornadoes dipped into the country side, leveling homes, barns and smaller buildings. The sweep of the wind was followed by a drenching rain and hail storm.

Communication was disorganized by the disturbance, and partial report of the damage was received with great difficulty.

All three of the storms originated in Kansas and two of them swirled eastward into Missouri.

Automobile dealers junked about 500,000 used cars in the United States last year.

NAME PROFESSOR OF ORGANIC CHEMISTRY AT PAPER INSTITUTE

Appointment of Harry Fletcher Lewis Announced at Lawrence

The appointment of Harry Fletcher Lewis, one time research chemist for the National Aniline Chemical company of Buffalo, N. Y., as professor of organic chemistry on the faculty of the Institute of Paper Chemistry of Lawrence College was announced today.

Dr. Lewis, a graduate of Wesleyan, comes to the Institute from the faculty of Cornell college, Mount Vernon, N. Y., where he has been professor of chemistry since 1921. Lewis received his Bachelor of Science degree from Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn., in 1912 and his Master of Science degree from the same institution a year later. Three years later he received the Ph.D. degree from the University of Illinois following his study and research. Since receiving his Doctor of Philosophy degree, Dr. Lewis has held positions with Grinnell college, and Cornell college, and the University of Maine.

He has been a research chemist has been a most active one in connection with industrial projects. In the spring of 1917 he was called to Washington, D. C., to serve in the Color Investigation Laboratory in the Bureau of Chemistry where he conducted a series of research projects in dry chemistry. From 1919 to 1921 he was research chemist for the National Aniline Chemical company of Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Lewis is the author of a book on "Organic Chemistry" which is now being published by the McGraw Hill company. He has also written a volume on "Industrial and Engineering Chemistry" as well as the annuals of the Iowa academy of Science. Dr. Lewis also holds several patents in the field of organic chemistry, the field in which he will teach at the Institute.

Dr. Lewis is a Fellow of the Iowa Academy of Science, a member of the American Chemical society, of Sigma Xi, and Phi Lambda Upsilon. His appointment is announced to be effective in September.

DISMISS APPEAL IN TEXAS LAND DISPUTE

Madison (AP)—The supreme court today summarily dismissed the state's appeal of an order permitting adverse examination of members of the Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers' association.

John Schunk, Milwaukee, an agent for the Progress Development company, a Texas land firm, sought and obtained an order to examine members of the brokers' board after the board denied him a license.

William Doll, counsel for the brokers' board, appeared before the court today and sought an appeal of Circuit Judge A. C. Hoppmann's decision permitting adverse examination. He argued that there was a question as to whether state officers may be examined.

"It seems to me," Chief Justice Rosenberg interrupted, "that we have thrashed out this before. The statutes give permission to examine state officers. We can't change the statute. The order is not appealable and this is dismissed."

The appeal was one outcome of the warfare between Texas land firms and the brokers' board over permission to sell land to Wisconsin residents. The board has sought to curb such sales.

OHIO GOVERNOR SCANS REPORT ON DISASTER

Columbus, Ohio (AP)—While Ohio National guardsmen maintained order at Ohio penitentiary, Gov. Myers V. Cooper set today aside to study the report of his board of inquiry which investigated the prison fire disaster of April 21.

The investigation was completed last week and the report was submitted first to State Welfare Director Hal J. Griswold.

The governor will decide where responsibility shall be placed for the fire which claimed the lives of 320 convicts. He has given no intimation as to what action he plans, although it is considered unlikely that he will recommend any change in the administrative personnel of the penitentiary.

LINDBERGH LANDS HIS AIRPLANE AT HAVANA

Miami (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed at Havana at 12:50 p. m. E. S. T. after a flight of five hours and 55 minutes from Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, with seven-day air mail from South American points for the United States, according to a radio message received by Pan-American Airways here. The distance of 628 miles was accomplished at an average speed of approximately 108 miles an hour.

TROOP 4 SCOUTS PLAN FOR HIKES

Boy scouts of valley council Troop 4, American legion, met at Army G. Thursday evening. Matters pertaining to a court of honor were discussed and for a series of hikes preliminary to the opening of the 1930 camp season were discussed. Ted Frank, scoutmaster presided.

HAWKS GREAT PEARL ON SHANGHAI MARKET

Shanghai (AP)—A pearl which the would-be vendor claims is of 663 carats weight and the largest gem of its kind in the world, has been offered for sale here. He values it at $1,500,000.

The hawk is Major U. Mohideen who presents himself as a Singapore jewel dealer. Alleging that he fears kidnappers who might force him to give up the jewel, he lives in seclusion and keeps his treasure in a bank vault.

The hawk calls the gem "The Pearl of Asia" and claims it was a gift of the Manchou emperor, Chien Lung from the shah of Persia. Chien Lung sat on the Dragon throne in old Peking from 1735 to 1796.

Where Major Mohideen obtained the jewel and upon what he bases his claims to its veracity constitute a secret. He refuses to discuss the subject with any but a prospective purchaser and will not even show the gem to others.

A picture of the treasure shows it to be pear-shaped. It is said that its luster is such that it provides a mirror for one's whole face.

THINK WOMEN'S LEAGUE WILL BACK NAVAL PACT

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—A resolution throwing all the influence of the League of Women Voters solidly behind President Hoover in obtaining senate ratification of the London naval limitations treaty appeared certain of adoption by the tenth anniversary convention here.

The resolution, introduced yesterday, is required by league laws to wait final action until tomorrow, a special committee giving a hearing in the interim. It set forth that "great progress has been made toward peace and international understanding by an agreed international naval building program."

COMMUNITY PICNIC ENDS SCHOOL YEAR

A community picnic at High View school, town of Freedom, for pupils, parents and friends, brought the school year to a close Wednesday afternoon. Games provided the entertainment. Sixty people were present. Mildred Tuttle, Gertrude Woldt and Elmer Springstrook have had perfect attendance records during the entire year, it was announced.

RADICAL GROUPS SHRINK RAPIDLY IN RECENT YEARS

Total Figures Show Shrinkage Amounting to About 100 Per Cent

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1936, By Cons. Press
New York—CPA—Michel Bakun, intellectual progenitor of the Communists, who staged their May day parties throughout the world Thursday, once told his followers not to worry about small numbers—that a busy and dutiful minority could stir things up plenty if they kept at it. Krapotkin, who gets an assist in touting communism, said something the same thing, and it must be admitted that this economic sect has been a much better space grabber than more heavily manned outfits.

In view of the somewhat ominous shadow which May day casts over the capitalist world, students of social trends have been making some interesting observations about the general spread and numerical strength of radicalism in America. About three-fourths of one per cent of the electorate is the proportion assigned to the four main branches of radical thought, which include socialism, communism, anarchism and syndicalism, the last including the I. W. W., a wartime casualty now on its way out.

While the New York police put away their night sticks, they and the police of other cities recently have been using them freely and it has been clearly shown that the Communists have been clubbed onto the front page in the past. Herbert Hoover has, more sagaciously, refused to cooperate with them and there are indications throughout the country that public policy, at least, will be to allow them to launch their vocal blasts against capitalistic walls of Jericho.

The total of all radical groups in America is estimated by government investigators and others as roughly between 500,000 and 600,000. This represents a shrinkage of somewhere around 100 per cent since the World war, and it is noticeable that persons fanning up the red menace produce any figures to back up their argument. American communism as an organized movement started in 1922, when the socialist party threw out about 50,000 left wingers, adherents of the third international. This group formed the Workers' party, which is now the repository of communism in America, cooperating with the third international, directed from Moscow. By 1929 the above 50,000 had shrunk to 16,000. While it is claimed some gains have since been made, particularly during the period of unemployment, it is gen-

CHINESE BANDITS ARM WITH MACHINE GUNS

Hankow—(CP)—Bandits in Central China have cast aside their old-fashioned rifles for more modern weapons, including the machine gun. Two years ago, it was unusual to be held up by a Chinese band man carrying anything more formidable than an antiquated revolver or single barreled pistol. Today, Thompson guns are the style.

Mounted machine guns are also employed by the bandit gangs. Some have been purchased from foreign gun-runners, while others have been contributed to the lawless elements by deserting soldiers.

ernally estimated the party rolls carry somewhere from 20,000 to 25,000. The American communists are organized in small, energetic groups called "nuclei," in the Moscow terminology. There are about 500 of these groups throughout the country, each accepting the discipline of the third international. Their job is not so much to get recruits as to dramatize the "class struggle" in the world news, an enterprise in which they have been generously assisted by politically minded police chiefs and politicians.

When Eugene V. Debs came out of prison he repudiated communism, thus strengthening the socialist party in its previous excommunication of the extremists. Although the socialists numbered 140,000 party members in 1917, this total was down to 15,500 in 1926. Estimates of the voting strength are around 500,000. While the socialists and communists are loosely linked together in the public mind, they love each other just like a sheep dog loves a porcupine. When Kerensky and Milukoff, mild socialists of the second international, were overthrown by the Bolsheviks, the latter formed the third international, with its purpose to stampede the rest of the world into immediate revolution. The break with the American socialists on this issue was sharp and irrevocable.

The I. W. W.'s or "Wobblies," once claiming a membership of about 70,000, located mostly in seasonal labor in the west, are now a remnant. The anarchists are, of course, unorganized, and negligible in numbers. Hence it has remained for the tireless handful of communists to keep the spotlight turned on "subversive radicalism" in America.

"This writer happened to be standing by when Vincent St. John, wobbly leader and ally of Big Bill Haywood, was shot in Goldfield. Jim Tiltus, an old desert rat, also was looking on. Going home that night across the malpais rock, he stopped and said:

"Do you hear that pack of wolves?" "You're wrong. That's just one coyote. That's one thing a coyote can do. He can howl just like a whole pack. That's why the wobblies started in the west—they learned that trick from the coyotes."

R. LEGGE STRIKES BACK

That was a potent punch that Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm board delivered to the United States Department of Commerce when he appeared before it and denounced its operation to the farm relief act and government assistance to agriculture. We don't have a bit of doubt that public sensation will be overwhelmingly with Chairman Legge in this controversy. The action taken by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States is decidedly flagrantly reactionary. It conducts itself like a ladies' needlework guild, on stopping progress with a loose acrobatic tongue. What does it offer agriculture?

Whether it is called socialistic, antipathetic, communistic or what-not the movement has a perfect right under the constitution to aid agriculture in organizing up a cooperative organization which will enable it to control its own fate and its own destinies. It is just another of the government's duties to see that it should subsidize manufacturing and any other form of private enterprise. The United States Department of Commerce is overwel-mingly before it understood what it means. To contend that it is all gone because it threatens to displace interests engaged in the private marketing and marketing of grains is fanciful.

Denver stockman and banker consider the farm legislation and the board because the latter becomes an "adviser, banker, builder, buyer and marketer for agriculture." What, you ask, is wrong with this? It is wrong and has been for years that agriculture is in need of just such advice and assistance. Continuing, this says that it is inconsistent for the government on the one hand through farm board to attempt to regulate decrease production, and on the other hand, through the department of commerce, to stimulate production.

We cannot share the opinion that the opposition to Judge Parker is an attack, either justified or unjustified,
upon the United States supreme court.
The supreme court is not above criticism. It is a human institution and while we venerate it and praise its record, which in the main has been constructive and a great bulwark of security to both the government and the people, it is not a sacred infallible tribunal. Some of its decisions have been manifestly wrong and flagrantly reactionary. Its interpretation of law and the constitution is at all times the composite product of the social and political philosophy and economic views of its members, their mental habits and the background of their experiences.
Its decisions change with times and it is constantly remaking and reconstructing statutory and constitutional law. The constitution is an elastic document. It is susceptible of different interpretations. It is important that we should have a court which keeps abreast of the times and interprets the constitution in line with modern thought and progress.

It would have been better if Mr.
Hoover had nominated an outstanding liberal of recognized ability to the vacancy in the supreme bench, irrespective of his locale and of his politics.
That would have been the wise and striking thing to do. Moreover, it would have been the right thing and the political consequences would probably have been more favorable than they are in the attempt to give recognition to southern participation in the setting up of the present administration.

An Illinois concern is making a fire-resisting material in several forms from lead slag.
About 40 per cent of Germany's telephones, a number in excess of 700,000, are operated through automatic exchanges.

"CLEAN-UP" DAYS

The week beginning Monday, May 5, has been designated by Mayor John Goodland as "Clean-up week." Residents are urged to clean up their premises and place the collection of junk and debris in containers so they can be picked up by city trucks and disposed of.

People who have pride in the appearance of their properties need no admonition to cooperate in this movement. Their every instinct is to keep their yards as clean as their homes and they will not permit unsightly junk to accumulate.

The disposal of tin cans, ashes and other debris that is bound to collect about a home constitutes a real problem and the solution is not an annual clean-up week. More and more restrictions are being placed upon dumping grounds and fewer places are available for the disposal of rubbish. Yet more rubbish is accumulating about homes than ever before.

Sooner or later the city must give consideration to systematic removal of rubbish from residences. This removal can be made weekly or monthly but some provision must soon be made to enable the householder to dispose of tin cans and other waste material that is accumulated. The removal of rubbish is becoming as serious a problem as disposal of garbage.

An annual "clean-up week" is a good thing so far as it goes but it would be better if there were "clean-up days" at more frequent intervals.

THE PARKER APPOINTMENT

An impartial view of the Parker appointment to the supreme court would seem to lead to the conclusion that it was unfortunate and injudicious. We are quite willing to accord to the president a conscientious desire to appoint only fit and able men to this great tribunal. We grant that he had this in mind when he made the selection of Judge Parker, but it is quite clear that with it he also had in mind the serving of a political purpose, which was to add to the prestige of his administration in the South. It has proved to be a regrettable combination of purpose and results.

Little has as yet been produced to show that the appointee is of the caliber and experience that we like to associate with service on the supreme bench. On the negro question, he takes the commonly accepted southern viewpoint, namely that participation of the colored race as a whole in politics is pernicious. It is not what he thinks on the subject but what he has said that matters. Efforts to make him appear sympathetic toward labor have not been successful. Even his own letter to the judiciary committee does not satisfactorily explain his position on the controversial subject over which labor has protested the appointment.

We cannot share the opinion that the opposition to Judge Parker is an attack, either justified or unjustified,
upon the United States supreme court.

POOR Al Capone. It begins to appear as though he isn't welcome anywhere at all.
He was invited not to stay in Chicago. He had difficulty in getting into his home at Miami.
And when he went to Havana he had to submit to the humiliation of being dragged before the secret service chief.

The University of Wisconsin is sponsoring a Minnesota Day in honor of the unbroken relations between the two schools since 1889. We dunno, but everytime that the two teams have played football at Wisconsin during the past few years, it seems to have been Minnesota Day anyway.

Grammar in Prohibition

Appleton, says the Literary Digest prohibition poll, voted 238 for enforcement, 346 for modification and 612 for repeal. So the repealers lead in Appleton—hummum, that sounds like a double negative to us, there isn't any enforcement anyway.

"Cuts Widow's Estate Income If She Weds," chattered a Chicago Tribune headline. Oddly enough, however, the widow in question had no intention of getting married. Those were merely the terms of the will.

Indicative of something or other is the bright-

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

A CASE OF PSYCHOLOGICAL COLOR BLINDNESS.
The theory of "resistance," argues a reader, at least suggests a way out—right living. The theory of "immunity" leaves you cold, flat, helpless.

On the contrary, comrade, it is the groundless notion of "lowered resistance" that leaves you helpless, and our scientific knowledge of immunity that points to a remedy.

The trouble is that the unsophis-ticated layman accepts without question the plausible notion that one is not likely to "catch cold," unless one's "resistance is lowered," and the old fossils who hand out such instruction to the laity calmly suggest that any undue exposure, say riding of one's hat during a funeral in the cemetery on a raw winter day, is sufficient to achieve that. Or if there are not enough funerals to meet the requirements, then the resourceful health authorities fall back on drafts; drafts are ubiquitous. For some of variety the health commissioner sometimes tings in wet feet or publishes a warning to the dumb part of the public to button up its overcoat as spring has not yet arrived.

When it comes to putting an estimate on the intelligence of the laity no mere health officer has anything on me. My readers know just what I think of their intelligence. And yet seriously I should hesitate to offer the laity some of the arguments my colleagues in the health education field suavely dispense, for fear some bright reader might yell Haywire.

For example, an eminent colleague published this gem recently:
"When the skin is heated to such a degree that nature pours out water upon it to cool it by evaporation, contact with a draft of cold air is highly perilous. A person with low resistance suffering from such ex-posure is likely to be stricken down with pneumonia, influenza, or acute bronchitis. The overheating lowers resistance. . . ." Notice that the good doctor introduces a person with resistance already lowered, and then gets some of the wire tangled up and stuns to lower the resistance some more. Notice also that he does not include diphtheria among the respiratory infections the hypothetical person is likely to develop from the exposure. Happens we know a little something about immunity to diphtheria. If one carelessly inhaled diphtheria among the penalties of getting caught in the draft, some layman might doubt one's sanity.

It is really amazing the lengths some of these bedtime story doctors and health authorities go to bolster up their case. Every little while one of them casts aside all restraints and tells the world that with a good climate or wetting and resistance all shot to smithereens a person may even catch cold from himself! Yes, sir, for you know (or you think you do) that most of us carry a large assortment of disease germs in our nose or throat all the time, and the germs are just waiting for a moment when our resistance is down to attack us! There isn't a jot or tittle of scientific evidence to support any such wild and woolly notion, but that doesn't deter the old guard from working it into their fully authorized and carefully censored bedtime stories.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
The Goller Scare.
Is there no treatment except the knife for goller in mature people?
(E. W. W.)

Answer.—Ordinary medical treatment is usually sufficient. Do not be misled by the misinformation disseminated by the mail-order quacks nor by the radio appeals at present being broadcast by some of our half-baked surgeons high in the ranks of the quack medical profession. Very few cases of goller in adults require surgery, and in such cases the patient's own physician is best qualified to decide whether operation is advisable. NOT the surgeon who seeks new business.

I should like to try your remedy for my public speakers. (L. K.) Answer.—One good remedy is to let your price at, say, $500 if it is an inquiry from a club or society of the $50 class. Another is to take a course of instruction in reading, oratory or dramatics, under a competent teacher. Another is to practice a lot, by horning in on every possible discussion in public meetings. If it comes to an unavoidable speaking of your piece, try taking 1 grain of quinine bis-phosphate or hydrochloride in capsule before meals three times a day for a week or 10 days before the sad occasion.

Bleedier.
What is needed by a person whose blood does not clot? She has been called a "bleeder." (Miss J. L.) Answer.—For temporary effect the clotting time may be shortened by the administration of hypodermic doses of an extract of ox-brain tissue called thromboplastin. Hemophilia, the "bleeder" state, is an inherited defect and cannot be cured. Diet has no influence on it.

Old Doc Salve.
A long while ago you gave the recipe for what you called "Old Doc Salve," and we used it for several years with great satisfaction.
(E. C. T.)

Answer.—Zinc stearate S. zinc oxid 24, boric acid 1, benzolic acid 1, zinc peroxid 6, to make 200 parts of salve.
These are incorporated in a base of petroleum and lanolin, scented with aromatic oils. It is a good home salve for burns, bites, cuts, and various skin irritations.

The Tinymites
By Hal Cochran
THE Tinymites played an hour or so. Then Clowdy said, "Come on! Let's go! We've seen our ough of this canal. But, where shall we go next?" The Travel Man said,
"Well, let's see! I guess the answer's up to me." And then he stood still, thinking. He was really quite perplexed.

At last he said, "I have a hunch that it would please this merry bunch if we would head for Germany. What do you think of that?" Wee Conny shouted, "Oh, that's fine! I'll pick that very trip for mine." The others, too, seemed quite enthusiased and Clowdy waved his hat.
Then Scouty said, "How will we go? That is what I would like to know. It's much too far to walk, I'm sure. Let's ride there in a train."
"Oh, no!" replied the Travel Man.
"I think I have a better plan. We'll go right back to Amsterdam. From there we'll take a plane."

And so they rushed down to the dock and there they shortly found a flock of little boats that they could hire. They picked a speedy one! Then, as the whole bunch hopped aboard, "We're off!" the merry boatman roared. They sailed out on the Zuider Zee and it was heaps of fun.

When once in Amsterdam they went out to a flying field and spent an hour or so in getting set to take off in the air. A great big plane was chartered soon. The big propeller hummed a tune and as they slowly sailed right up it seemed a treat quite rare.

All of a sudden Clowdy said,
"I promise I will never dread to ride within a great big plane, no matter where we roam. Just look how strong this plane is made.
There is no cause to feel afraid.
And, when you're once inside of it,
it's really just like home."

Sir Harry Segrave, holder of the world's automobile speed record, was arrested in London for driving over 45 miles an hour. It is safe to assume Sir Harry didn't say: "Why officer, I've never been over 35 in my life."

Shortly after a young German named Paul Millon was found stowed away on a liner bound for the United States, he was set to scrubbing decks. That gave the crew
a fine chance to see Millon's work.

A BYSTANDER IN WASHINGTON

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—On private calendar day in the house of representatives three men rule supreme.

Newspaper men refer to the trio as the "wrecking crew." Maj. Johnny Tillis, the republican floor boss, prondly refers to them as his "three musketereers."

The three—Harry Rowbottom of Indiana, Sam Arentz of Nevada, and Carl Blachmann of West Virginia—are those gentlemen who make sure that no bill passes the house unless it has unquestioned merit.

Approximately eight out of every 10 bills introduced in the house go on the private calendar. Many of these do not have a chance in the world of being enacted into law. Nor do their authors hope for passage when they are introduced. A congressman must do many things for political expediency.

It is the job of the "three musketeers" to keep an eye on this calendar, and separate the good from the bad; permit the good to go on their legislative way, make sure that the bad are relegated to oblivion.

"CHIEF WRECKER" Rowbottom is the "chief wrecker" or, as Major Tilson calls him, the "chief musketeer."

This youthful, mild-mannered Hoosier has been commissioner with authority to wreck any bill he chooses. He is now serving his second congress in this capacity. Arentz and Blachmann are new to the game.

The three sit at the republican leaders' table in the center of the chamber. The bills up for consideration on that day are divided equally between them. As soon as the clerk has read the title of the first bill,
"Chief Musketeer" Rowbottom arises.

If it has been decided that the bill has merit, he says nothing. But if the reverse is true, then the "chief musketeer" fires.

"Mr. Speaker, I object."
If he is challenged by the author of the bill, Rowbottom will make a few words of explanation. This is merely for courtesy's sake, for that particular bill has been wrecked beyond repair.

When the title of the second bill is read, "Musketeer No. 2" goes through the same procedure. And so does "Musketeer No. 3" with the third bill.

This system enables the "musketeers" to keep one jump ahead of their colleagues. While Rowbottom is disposing of one bill, Arentz is mapping out his plans of attack on another, and Blachmann on still another.

FREE LANCERS

A wary eye must be kept on the free lancer "musketeers." There are several of these in the house, and they are just as capable "wreckers" as are Major Tilson's "musketeers."

Ever so often Rowbottom is compelled to turn his guns on these free lancers to insure the passage of worthy legislation.

The democrats also have a "wrecking crew," but they find it the best policy to keep on good terms with the "three musketeers."

Ross Collins of Mississippi, Arthur Greenwood of Indiana and Dave O'Connell of New York do the "wrecking" for the minority when there's any to be done.

Pithy Sayings

WANTS GRAND JURY

Editor Post-Crescent—Prior to the last election, Frank Appleton, county highway commissioner, came into the town of Kaukauna, to work for his old friend James Farrell, against me for town chairman.

Haven't we got a good highway commissioner, when he has to get out on his own, his own men, on the county board? The district attorney tells me he cleaned up the highway commission. Let us see if he did.
Mr. Riese, superintendent of patrols drew $351.50 for the shortest month in the year. And supposed to be paid $50 per hour. I wonder what company insures him. And taxpay-

This is just a little item. An implement dealer told me he bid on the snow machinery a year ago, and that he was the lowest bidder on the same machinery they bought. But they bought from their own man, and paid the price. And his uncle was a member of the committee.

Isn't this far from a cleanup? I think it's time taxpayers woke up and ask for a grand jury.
Yours for clean politics.
Frank McDaniel, Kaukauna, R. 3.

AT POSITION BETTER, BUT AT CONSUMPTION

Farming Prospect of Year Crop in World

BY J. C. ROYLE
Light, 1930, By Cons. Press
The situation of wheat throughout the world is showing improvement.
The official government figures show no alarming prospect coming crops either here or elsewhere. The prospect of bumper proportions of wheat is not satisfactory.

In consequence, many of the businessmen outside the agricultural circle here for the meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, feel that improvement in wheat growing must come from the same steps which have been taken in their own business, namely, a development of the wheat.

The board, represented by Mr. Alexander Leeger, however, maintains that cooperation is not only among the farmers themselves, but among men in other lines in order to make the marketing program of wheat effective. He states that the successful "increase" in stabilizing prices for wheat and cotton, as that in their own interest, should support the producer to the fullest extent.

and that the Farm Marketing board which the farm board has repealed has been made up in the chamber of commerce by Daniel A. Millett.
The attitude with which the board is viewed by both sides is the challenge of Mr.
"match dollar for dollar."
The establishment of a foundation for a better method of doing business and the acceptance of the change on behalf of the chamber of commerce.

Mr. Leeger points out that farmers are almost a third of the population and that it is to the interest of the manufacturer to see that the farmer is more money in his pocket than he is now. He adds, the farmer could not buy what he needs unless the price of his products is high enough to enable him to do so. He adds, the farmer is the backbone of the nation and that the price of his products should be high enough to enable him to do so.

He answers this by declaring that the most important function of the farmer is to produce the food which is necessary for the support of the population.

He is that the government is the banking business, by the loans made available to the farmer to enable him to market his crops in the most profitable manner.
He is that if private business interests do not find it to their interest to do so,
the government should do so.
He is that it is necessary that the price of the products be stabilized so that the security of the market be maintained for the purpose of the government agencies.

He is that this somewhat difficult situation now in progress is the result of the industrial revolution and the question of the weather. He is that the farmer is the backbone of the nation and that the price of his products should be high enough to enable him to do so.

ECONOMIST FAVORS EMPLOYMENT OFFICES

Madison —(P)— Government employment offices, stabilization of employment and timely expenditures of government units for carrying out public projects are means of alleviating the unemployment situation, according to Russell H. Baugh, University of Wisconsin instructor in economics.

"These measures can unquestion-ably serve to reduce unemployment," he said, "but as long as it is possible for maladjustment to develop in industry just so long will some unemployment exist. And when one comprehends the intricate complexity of the many interdependent processes which go to make up business activity the possibility of a perfect balance between them seems inconceivable."

As a result, Mr. Baugh feels that always will be some unemployment and the government must care for the unemployed persons through a built-in contributions, locally required from employers, employees and government in some quota proportion.
Mr. Baugh lists as the causes of unemployment:
1. Failure of men to know of jobs because there is no interlinking plan in the social structure.

2. Excess of the social structure of the social structure which is not in the social structure.

WOULD BOOST WAR PENSION FOR VETERANS

if Passed, Will Increase Sam $12-Annually

BY A. BLACK
Washington Correspondent

A general increase in Civil War veterans and war widows which will amount to $12,000,000 a year is to be acted on by the House of Representatives.

M. Nelson of Madison, Ind., introduced the bill in behalf of the Civil War Veterans and War Widows. The bill provides for an increase of $12 a month for those in such condition as to require the periodic care of another person, $10 a month, the $10 will both get $100 the Nelson bill, getting $30 a month and the age limit for widows will be put at 60 years instead of 75 the present law. the wives of Civil war soldiers and sailors during the period of the war get no increase out of this general bill.

The bill previously introduced in the house of representatives would have added $24,630,000 to the annual expense of pensions and the previous senate bill would have added $43,500,000 according to estimates of the Bureau of Pensions.

Rep. Nelson undertook a careful study of the pension question with a view of preventing a treasury deficit and yet granting justice to the veterans and their dependents. He was of the opinion that either of the proposed bills would have been vetoed by President Hoover is con- gress had passed them. The Grand Army of the Republic supported the House bill, which would have cost $24,630,000 a year.

GERMANY FACING TRAFFIC TROUBLE

But Most Problems There Have Been Settled Thus Far

Hartford, Conn. — Germany, too has its traffic problems. But being a small country compared with the United States, it has solved them satisfactorily, according to Robbins R. Stoeckel, commissioner of the Department of Motor Vehicles of this state.

Traffic conditions prevailing in Germany now resemble those in the United States in 1910. Stoeckel says, but German thoroughness has taken the problem well in hand and has provided for future expansion.

"The German has anticipated and is studying needs while using the experiences of other countries," Stoeckel says. "He is supervising parking, and at the same time educating his public to understand that a private car cannot own a section of the road for parking purposes."

"Almost every corner where there is any possible anticipation of traffic has its German policeman, equipped with a little short sword instead of a club."

"ISLANDS" AT CROSSINGS

Adequate protection has been provided for pedestrians wanting to cross busy streets, according to Stoeckel. Safety lanes built across the street in sections allow room enough for just one automobile to pass. Obviously a car going 30 miles an hour would have to slow down considerably to get through this space. And so in three or four attempts, a different section each time, pedestrians cross in safety.

In southern Germany traffic is well handled, even though the cars speed faster than those in the United States sometimes. The making of roads here is a painstaking job. Most of them are built on foundations set up by the ancient Romans. The job of oiling them takes a long time.

"The oiling, in the country at least, is done by a crew which has a small hand cart," Stoeckel explains. "Only about 12 feet of roadway is oiled at a time with this machine and then covered immediately with sand by hand. No one is allowed to pass while this is being done, and

Nebraska Gold Star Women Passengers On First Trip

Omaha, Neb. —(AP)—Thirty-seven Nebraska mothers and widows will sail for France May 7, the first of the 6,000 gold star weavers whom the government will take across as its guests.

Three years will be required for all to make the trip to battlefields and cemeteries, hospital sites and places where concentration camps were located—sacred soil to those who lost sons and husbands in the World War.

Nebraska has 125 women who have sons or husbands buried in foreign cemeteries. Of these, 119 are mothers, five are widows and one is a step-mother.

Almost half of the eligible women did not care to make the trip. Many felt they were too old; others motorists are held up from 15 to 20 minutes over the oiling of just this little strip of road.

"Street traffic in cities like Nuremberg and Munich is a problem not so much for the motor vehicle operator as for the pedestrian. It is quite apparent that whatever the law may be, the sentiment and its application to the individual is that the pedestrian is far game, that he has to look out for himself. I heard it stated that if a car ran into a pedestrian the car operator was not obliged to do more than to curse."

Germany, Stoeckel says, has managed to safer by insisting on a thorough examination of all machines periodically. If any car is unfit, the examiners recommend that it be junked, and it is immediately destroyed.

Mrs. Sophia Lisenbee of Omaha is one of the war widows in the party. Her husband, a private in the 137th Infantry, died in the Argonne, and there he sleeps in the Meuse-Argonne cemetery.

>QUALITY IS THE BEST POLICY<<<

GRAHAM

After Three Years of Preparation Now Gives Impressive Object Lesson in Greater Value-Giving

THERE could be no better time than this to give practical proof that by strict adherence to quality standards in massed manufacturing, motor cars can rise above commonplace quality and still be held down in price.

Way has been well paved for this exhibition of greater value-giving which the Graham brothers are now able to present, by nearly three years spent perfecting their plant processes and by the manufacturing volume awarded by more than 100,000 owners.

These valuable years were preceded by an experience of more than twenty years in which they have earnestly to hold fast to the conviction that quality is the best policy in quantity production of everything else.

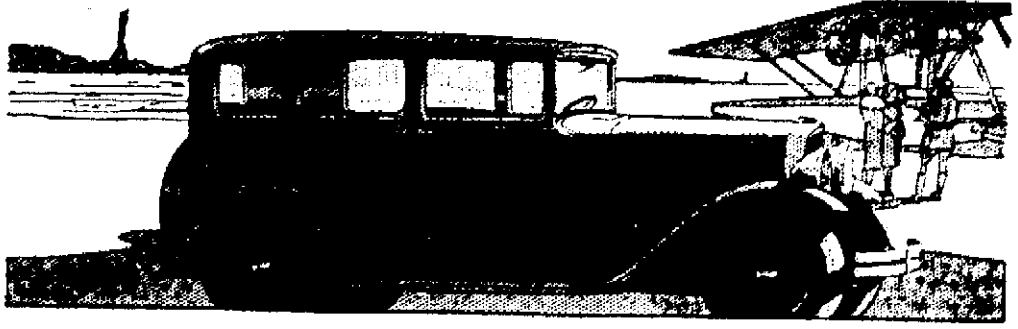

In those progressive years, the Grahams have earned much of incalculable value. They owe it to their public and they pass on now, at a moment when they believe it will be most appreciated, the fruits of their experience, in a line of cars so obviously superior in value that they justify themselves—at prices so strikingly attractive that they represent impressive object lessons in greater value-giving.

CONSECRATE NEW CHURCH ON MAY 25; BISHOP TO ATTEND

Parish Grounds Will Be Beautified Soon, Officers Report

New London—Consecration services of the recently completed Most Precious Catholic church will take place May 25, according to the Rev. Otto Kolbe, pastor of the church. Bishop Paul P. Rhode of Green Bay will conduct the formal services. An elaborate sequence of services will take place on that day, beginning with the blessing of the altar at 10 o'clock.

Visiting clergymen who will participate in the dedication services will be Father J. C. Hogan, Oshkosh; Father L. C. Becker, Oconto; Father John Hummel, Menasha; Father William Rice, Oshkosh. Other prominent clergymen from churches of the state also are expected.

The newest addition to the church includes the stately and the stained glass windows. These have been recently installed. Among the contributors are Mrs. George Ruppel, Charles Kische, Mrs. Nicholas Fleese, Mrs. Barbara Schaller, W. H. Knapstein, Mrs. Edward Huss, Edward and Ann Braban, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cline, H. G. Freilinger and family, Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dembach and family, William Knapstein, Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fox, Valley Pike, Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Henmy and family, Norman Orlitz, August Meinhardt and family, David Carey and family, Frances Butler, Dr. G. A. Ostermeier, Miss Gertrude Ostermeier, Edward Petot and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Schwartz, Miss Alice Michael and family, Frank Petot, Ben Bolinski, Bernard Klatt, Frank Klatt, Mrs. Charles Danks and family, the Farrell family, Miss Anna John and Miss Winnifred Kromschinski, Edward Meshe and Mrs. Arthur Jennings.

Contributions of the congregation have made possible the installation of windows in memory of the Rev. Father Kaster, former pastor of the church. Another window contributed by the Women's Order of Foresters commemorates the name of Charles Schaller, a World war veteran who lost his life in France and whose body was returned to his home for burial.

Among the names too are those who have contributed stately. One of St. Theresa, the Little Flower, is the gift of Mrs. John Denge. The statue of Christ is the gift of Miss Laura Schaller, and another, the Virgin Mary was given by John Small. That of St. Joseph is the gift of Joseph Schultz. The baptismal font of white Carrara marble decorated with green is the gift of Dr. P. J. Murphy. All glass used in the windows is of the world famous quality sent from the Tyrol.

Landscaping of the parish grounds will follow as soon as the dismantling of the former parsonage is completed. On the lot fronting Washington and St. Pearl-st., a garden is to be laid out, which will include a terraced rock garden, and an elaborate planting of shrubs and evergreens. This work is to be the gift of Sam Marsh and Theodore Knapstein. With the addition of the fourteen stations of the cross the church will be completed.

CHILTON CLUB HEARS APPLETON'S TALENT

Chilton—Chilton Kiwanis had as its guests on Tuesday evening its mother chapter, the Appleton Kiwanis club, with their ladies. The entire program was given by the Appleton group, whose president, Dr. J. R. Denyes, was introduced by Judge H. F. Arps, president of the Chilton club. The program consisted of instrumental music by the Misses Eleanor Veckel, Phoebe Nickel and Ramona Huessmann, a vocal solo by Earl Miller, a vocal duet by Martin Van Roy and R. M. Connelly; a selection played on a musical saw by George Nixon; and a vocal solo by Mr. Nixon; and a talk by J. L. Johns. Dr. Denyes then spoke on the Meaning and Accomplishments of Kiwanis. The objective of Kiwanis and similar organizations is service to the community to the end that the leisure time resulting from the large scale production of this age may be spent in properly preparing the rising generation for the most efficient expenditure of that leisure.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cardinal, who have been occupying an apartment in the Kerkira home on Lincoln-st. have moved into rooms on the second floor of the Hurley home at Washington-st.

THREE FINED $50 FOR SPEARING GAME FISH

New London—Fines of $50 and costs, amounting to $3.95 each, were paid in Judge Archibald's court here Wednesday by Arnold Garrow, Kenneth Carter and Irvin Worm. The two latter men are from this city, while Mr. Garrow resides at Ostrander. The charge was for spearing fish during the night, and their arrests were made by Warden Chase and Randall of Waupaca. Other recent arrests include those of Max Benedict of New London and Arnold Carver of Northport. They also appeared in court and were bound over to the circuit court for trial.

NEW LONDON PERSONALS

New London—Gordon Richards, formerly of this city and recently connected with the sales force of an Oshkosh pharmacy, has secured the position of clerk at the Orlitz-Werner drug store. Earl Dunbar has severed his connection with the local company and returned to his home at Seymour.

Mrs. Phoebe Ann Potter is the guest of relatives at Rhineland, having been taken as far as Antigo by her niece, Mrs. J. J. Burns.

Among New London anglers who were out for trout on May 1 on northern streams were Clifford Dean, Harvey Greenlaw, Ralph Hanson, and Dave Vandervere.

Representing the Carter-Hanson studio of this city, Mrs. Ralph Hanson, Robert Carter and A. McIlvath are spending today at Green Bay where the Fox River Valley Photographers association is in session.

Mrs. Henry Maxwell of Ripon, who has been a guest of the week in the E. C. Jost home, has returned to her home. She was accompanied there by Mr. and Mrs. Jost, and Mrs. W. E. Hannaford.

BRILLION RESIDENT GIVES CARD PARTY

Brillion—Miss Theresa Miller entertained eight friends at a five hundred party at her residence Friday evening. Mrs. Fred Thurrow was awarded high honor, Mrs. James Levasch, second and Mrs. William Ross, low. Those present were Mesdames Fred Thurrow, Peter Hanson, Edward Keller, Kate Schramm, William Ross, James Levasch, Wilmer Schramm and Andrew Wolf.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldock of Hilbert attended a meeting of the Eastern Star chapter at Brillion, Friday evening.

Dr. H. P. Smith and Dr. I. N. McComb attended a regular meeting of the Calumet County Medical association at Chilton, Thursday evening.

The Old Fellow's district meeting was held at Brillion Saturday afternoon and evening which comprised lodges from five different places including Chilton, Manitowish, Two Rivers, Brillion and Stockbridge. There was a large attendance with two grand lodge officers present from Wisconsin F. M. Minshall, grand master of Viroqua and P. Knuth, deputy grand masters of Sawyer. They gave talks during the session and members of the Brillion degree team initiated seven candidates. Following the evening's session the Brillion Rebekah lodge served a luncheon.

CHILTON NATIONAL BANK TO MOVE TO NEW HEADQUARTERS

Building to Be Open to Public for Inspection on Saturday

Special to Post-Crescent

Chilton—The newly completed National Bank building on Main-st., directly east of the Hotel Chilton, will be formally opened to the public Saturday afternoon and evening. The directors of the bank will receive the public from 2 to 9 p. m. and shown the usually inaccessible places, including vaults, money drawers, cages and directors' quarters. The offices on the second floor will also be open for inspection. Two of these have already been rented, one by Dr. J. W. Goggins and the other by Dr. J. N. Higgins.

The building was designed by A. Moorman and Co., of Minneapolis, and is a combination of face brick, Bedford Indiana limestone, with massive pillars and ornate brass grilles burglar alarm. Most of the labor, with the exception of supervision, was employed locally and mortar, sand, gravel, cement, brick, mortar color, and wood work were obtained locally.

Following the opening on Saturday money, securities and valuables will be moved into the new bank and the banking carried on in the new home. The quarters formerly used by the bank will be turned over to the Hotel Chilton and remodeled for hotel purposes.

On Thursday evening a dinner for the stockholders was given at the Hotel Chilton, covers being laid for about 80. Previous to the dinner stockholders inspected the new building.

The following are the officers of the Chilton National Bank: Walter A. Kurtz, president; William N. Knauf, vice president; M. Cecilia Bosshard, cashier; directors, Walter A. Kurtz, William N. Knauf, Helmut P. Arps, Oscar L. Dorschel, Andrew Noll, William F. Pinnow and Frank Tesch.

A track meet will be held at the Plymouth Fair grounds Saturday under the auspices of the Plymouth high school. The schools participating in the meet are Plymouth, Sheboygan Falls, Elkhart Lake, Kiel, New Holstein, Valders and Chilton.

The local boys have been training under the supervision of J. H. Armstrong, athletic director of the high school.

The local boys who will attend are Lester Blonien, Donald Bonk, Mel Bloomer, Harold Bohl, Elmer Andries, Mark Everitt, Leo Fox, Jerome Miller, George Noll, Earl Pfeiffer, Billy Steudel and Norman Wagner.

Two marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk during the past week to Carl Gruettner of Chilton and Miss Anna K. Peter of the town of Day, Marathon-co and the other to Jacob A. Mallinck of the town of Moone, Manitowish-co and Miss Gertrude Lodes of the town of Rantoul. Gruettner-Peter marriage will take place May 13 and the other one May 6.

MACHINERY HELPS FIND MURDERERS WITH MORE EASE

But Law-dodging Felon Outside This Class Fairly Well Off

BY OWEN L. SCOTT
Copyright, 1936, by Cane Press
Chicago—(CFA)—Machinery now is available here for a marshalling of the forces of science against the murderer, but the smart, law-dodging felon outside this class of killers, still functions with only occasional disorganized opposition.

The crime clinic, performing as an adjunct of Northwestern University, in the few months of its existence is found to have covered itself with considerable glory in solving homicides. Few would make similar claims in behalf of other agencies organized to back up the law.

Federal authorities Thursday considered that they had another feather in their cap with the indictment of twenty-five reputed members of a "Scarface Al" Capone alcohol department. But the big boss in this end of organized crime remained far outside the meshes.

It is in the solution of killings that progress is being made. Here science has been applied effectively. Maj. Calvin E. Goodard, head of the Northwestern University crime laboratory, has been able to place blame for fourteen slayings through a study of guns and bullets used in committing the crimes. Now, with Dr. Clarence Muehlberger to bring the possible advantages of chemistry and toxicology to the problem, and Ferdinand Watzek, Vienna sleuth, to add expert advice on following minor clues, the crime clinic expects even better results in the future.

"In almost every instance where solutions have been found for these killings, the cases appeared hopeless," Dr. Herman N. Bundenen, Cook county coroner, commented today. "Science enabled the law to utilize new methods of approach in seeking to solve these murders and they have been effective."

In the first case in which the crime laboratory worked, that involving the murder of a bang guard, the three bandits now are awaiting electrocution. In that instance the validity of testimony by Dr. Goodard concerning evidence supplied by the guns and the bullets used, was attacked by the defense, but the supreme court upheld this use of scientific examination.

Just recently detectives were able to run down the gun used in the Easter slaying of three men in a local saloon and the owner of the gun is held to face scientific findings in court. This had appeared an almost hopeless case. It was the same with an automobile salesman, slain by a prospective customer. Through a study of the bullets which did the killing, and a study of guns found on bandits, the police now have suspects in this case.

Coroner Bundenen claims that the laboratory has solved the killing of "Dingbat" Obera and Sam Malega, gangsters, and knows the owner of the machine gun used to kill the seven Moran gangsters on Valentine Day, 1929.

He thinks that killers now face a losing game in trying to best the law. Other types of felons, however, are not yet up against this scientific opposition.

BUBBLES MAY MAKE AVIATION SAFER

Scientists Use Them to Determine What Wings Can Stand

Madison—(P)—Soap bubbles may prove to be the margin of life for some aviators.

Not that the bubbles will be a part of every flyer's equipment in the future, rather that they were the means used by the United States Forest Products Service laboratory here in recent experiments to determine the amount of twisting a wing beam of an airplane can undergo before crumbling.

Experimentation came at the request of navy aviation officers who wished to learn a partial cause of crumbling of wings. The studies determined the twist resistance of all kinds and shapes of airplane wing beams, held responsible for some airplane crashes.

From the discoveries of a German physicist some years ago, laboratory officials knew that a pincushion-shaped soap bubble over a cross-section of the beam is direct measure of the twist resistance of the solid beam.

But the fragile soap bubble presented difficulties—it broke too easily even when blown with pure oxygen. As a result, several months were spent in developing a new bubble material of water and glycerine, which gave puncture-proof bubbles that stand for hours. Scientifically, the mixture has the imposing name of "triethylamine sulfate."

Instead of building and breaking expensive model beams, the laboratory workers used the twist resistance formula and applied it to aluminum models of cross-sections of wing beams. They swept the bubble film over the holes, inflated the bubbles slightly, and then measured the volume of each bubble by contacts with a sharp pointed micrometer screw.

From this data, the investigators can compute the stresses that will be produced in the airplane part by the loads and twisting it will suffer in service. The twist resistance of each shape of wing beam has been determined, accurate to within 4 per cent, Carlisle P. Winslow, director of the laboratory says, and adds a "new element of safety has been added to engineering design and flying."

Speed Shift For Scents Brings Smellies Nearer

Hamilton, N. Y.—(P)—A strange, little known twist of the perfume's art now brings the adding of scent to sound in the movies a step nearer. This secret takes smells—even stinks—and without blowing them out of the room, transforms them in a twinkling into sweet perfumes.

The new air-conditioning of great movie houses supplies the machinery, so that the "smellies" are set to arrive almost anytime. The possibilities are explained by Dr. Donald A. Laird, director of the department of psychology of Colgate University, who says:

"How quickly can one scent replace another?"

"There are two answers. If completely prepared perfumes are used for each effect, the change would depend largely on the mechanical ventilating system. This could be shortened by using volatile perfumes which spread almost instantly."

"The second answer concerns perfumes scientifically concocted—by blending. If we want to change from new-mown hay scent in a pastoral scene to carnation in the following boulevard scene, we would not need to exhaust the hay scent.

"We would transform the hay into carnation by adding to the air aromatic chemicals which in themselves would smell nothing like carnation, but blend with the older scents to bring out the clear carnation note."

FIVE CONGRESSMEN FROM STATE OPPOSE REPORT ON TARIFF

Four Badger Representatives Vote for It and Two Do Not Vote

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
Washington—Five Wisconsin congressmen voted against accepting the conference report on the tariff bill, four voted for it, and two did not vote.

These voting for the bill, with the disagreed items not yet voted on, were: Cooper of Racine; Kading of Watertown; Schafer and Stafford of Milwaukee.

Voting against it were: Nelson of Madison, Hull of Black River Falls, Browne of Waupaca; Schneider of Appleton, and Peavey of Washburn. Senator Blaine who voted against the bill, sat in the house during the vote.

Fear of Hudson and Lampert of Oshkosh did not vote. Lampert being in Oshkosh in connection with labor troubles on the construction of the new Oshkosh postoffice.

When the vote was taken on the passage of the bill in the house of representatives last May, Hull was the only Wisconsin man voting against it while Peavey had not then been sworn in.

Separate votes on contested items will be taken during the rest of the week.

Don't Cast Too Far, Fly Fishermen Are Advised

BY B. A. CLAFLIN

Among the various inquiries you receive of late was this: "Do you think trout can be taken on artificial flies on the opening day?" If so, what patterns would you advise? The query was a perfectly proper one, coming as it did from a novice in the sport. Experienced fly fishermen will no doubt knock at once what my reply was, at least to the first question. As to the second, opinions differ greatly.

This was my answer: "If you observe natural insects hovering over the surface or the water the trout will take your artificial offerings; that is, if you have the patterns which imitate fairly well the live insects you see."

They may appear early in the morning if it is warm. However, this is not apt to occur if it is cold. They are much more apt to come forth after the sun has warmed the atmosphere, and most apt to show themselves along toward night, say from sunset till darkness, sets in.

Whenever they do appear, it is the high sign to get busy with your flies. Of course, it is possible to take fish on flies when no natural insects are in evidence, but they will not strike with any regularity.

One of the common mistakes of fly fishermen is their attempt to make too long casts. This is usually not necessary. It is far better to drop your fly out not over about thirty feet, and do it properly. By that I mean, check your forward cast at such a time as to bring the fuzzy lure to the surface before your leader, and particularly before your line.

It is usually fatal to allow your line or leader to splash the water before the fly reaches the surface. That is why I say too long casts should not be attempted, for then is when the disturbance it mostly likely to occur. In other words, you must deceive the wary trout into thinking that your fly is a natural insect which has fluttered down onto the surface as nature directs them to do for the obvious reason of becoming food for the waiting fish.

On fast water, such as is found in many places on the Oconto and Rat rivers, longer casts may be made across stretches of white water, which are bordered on the opposite side of the rushing current by a quiet surface onto which you direct your fly. The natural break of the rapids will hide the disturbance.

As to what patterns of flies to use on the opening day, I advised my inquirer to use, first of all, small ones, for natural insects run small at that time. Imitations of nymphs and creepers are effective. The various "streamers" flies and the "Trudes", made from squirrel tails or the hair from badger, coon, dog and skunk are good for early use. Particularly, get some hair flies representing insects in the creeper stages. I like them dressed on hollow point pennell hooks. The best are none too good.

Patterson, N. J.—It is not recorded whether Mrs. Lindbergh has persuaded the colonel to dance, but his father-in-law has thwarted a plot on a ballroom floor. Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow told at a dinner dance here of what happened at a charity affair in Mexico City. She offered to add $100 to the proceeds if Senorita Cules, daughter of the President, should get the ambassador to dance. Mr. Morrow overheard and promptly gave the senorita $250 to excuse him.

A SIMPLE STEP TOWARDS HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a Daily Essential and Millions Know Its Effectiveness in Relief of Constipation
Perhaps the one simple thing you are not doing to guarantee permanent health is having sufficient roughage in your food. Absence of this roughage is the direct cause of constipation which results in so many other ills—headaches, listlessness, general depression, indigestion and, sometimes, serious disease.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. It is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded. Two tablespoons daily (in serious cases, with each meal) is the proper amount.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also helps you to health in other ways. It is rich in iron, practically all of which goes into the blood, bringing red, healthy color to the complexion. It helps prevent anemia. Be sure to include it in reducing diets.
Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with cream or milk added. It is a delicious addition to cereals, fruits and soups. In cooked foods, such as bran muffins, it is just as effective in the relief of constipation. Recommended by doctors. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

At Last—a 3-Way Washing Discovery

"My Clothes Snow White"

"From the first trial of CHEERIO, I was delighted. Washing is more of a pleasure now than a task. The clothes are beautifully white and clean with the slightest rubbing. There is also that fresh odor about them that none other I have used could impart. I have passed it on to my neighbors and they are now using CHEERIO. Three cheers for CHEERIO!"

Mrs. W. Croose
 Cairo, Illinois

Just imagine—a new kind of soap that softens hard water, soaks dirt loose, and whitens clothes—all without harming the finest, daintiest fabrics. This amazing new washing compound—CHEERIO—does your greasy pans, your heavy wash, your dirty floors and woodwork in half the time. Yet you use only half as much as old soaps! Marvelous for work clothes, curtains, children's rompers. Leaves everything smelling so sweet and clean—no soapy odor. Invaluable for washing dishes in hard water—keeps hands lovely. Get acquainted with CHEERIO—put it to work today on your hardest job—then see how work flies! 10c and 25c packages at all grocers. Made by KIRK.

KIRK'S ORIGINAL COCOA HARDWATER CASTILE
 WITH SELECTED COCOANUT OIL

A Soap For Real Boys

Here's the solution to an old problem. Don't bribe boys to wash—merely give them the modern soap that instantly bursts into millions of vigorous bubbles.

This new soap is made by a secret process from costly, mild coconut oil. Just plunge it into water—hard or soft—hot or cold—and instantly you have mountains of rich, creamy, lather!

And so gentle is this magic soap that it is soothing to delicate skin—its mild coconut oil leaves your skin silken-smooth and soft. Yet it makes short work of grimy dirt, oil and grease and removes dangerous germs.

Be modern—try this new magic soap made for busy people. Only 10c for the big white oversize cake.

NEW BROADCASTING NETWORK PLANNED, COURT CASE SHOWS

Station WGBS, New York City Would Be Nucleus of System

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright, 1936, By Cow Press
Washington, (CPA)—Plans for the creation of a third broadcasting network, competitive with the National Broadcasting company, and the Columbia Broadcasting System, are entwined in the litigation now pending before the court of appeals here on petition of station WGBS, of the General Broadcasting System, operated in New York City.

Actually the litigation involves the engineering question of the feasibility of permitting this station to operate on a channel separated by only 20 kilocycles from the channel on which two other regional stations in New York—WNYC, and WMCA—now divide time. Engineering opinion is practically unanimous that at least 50 kilocycle separation between stations in the same Metropolitan area is necessary.

But the contention of station WGBS, following exhaustive field tests, is that this opinion is not applicable in so far as New York city is concerned.

CLAIM EXCEPTION
New York's strange configuration of steel and iron construction, having the effect of sapping the strength of radio signals makes it the exception to this engineering rule.

The case has been brought squarely before the court by WGBS in an appeal from the decision of the federal radio commission denying it continued use of the 600 kilocycle channel, on an experimental basis. The commission held interference would result from the operation of the station on this channel, when stations WNYC, owned and operated by New York City itself, and WMCA of the Knickerbocker Broadcasting company, were operated on the 570 kilocycle channel, only 30 kilocycles away. It ordered WGBS to return to its former assignment on 1180 kilocycles effective May 1, and assigned the hotly contested 600 kilocycle channel to station WICX, at Bridgeport, Conn.

The two New York stations had protested vigorously the granting of the WGBS application for the frequency, arguing that cross-talk interference would result.

But WGBS got from the court, last Saturday a stay order, preventing the commission from removing it from the 600 kilocycle channel during the pendency of its appeal.

William F. Fox, president and manager of WGBS, which formerly was owned by General Brothers, told the commission of plans for the creation of the new chain. He said a dozen stations were committed to it, while 20 or 40 stations had approached him about the idea. Although he had not divulged names, he said he had been negotiating with individuals who would back the project. Between $50,000 and $1,000,000 would be needed, he declared, saying that the former amount already had been committed.

For the past three months WGBS has been operating on the 600 kilocycle channel under an experimental license subject to cancellation without advance notice or hearing, if interference resulted. In refusing to renew the license, the commission held interference had resulted.

WGBS produced testimony at the extended hearing before the commission that field tests did not show interference was caused.

MILWAUKEE TO PAY HIGHER CARFARES

Commission Order Settles Controversy With Electric Company

Madison—(AP)—Enlargement of the single fare area and an increase in street car fares for Milwaukee was provided by an order of the railroad commission today.

The order ended a controversy that has existed between the city of Milwaukee and the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company for more than a year.

The street car company demanded the right to charge residents of suburbs a zone fare. Even after North Milwaukee was annexed to the city proper the company continued to charge zone fares.

Under the commission's order, the single fare area includes the follow-

Another Group Of Prize Winners Announced In Washington Contest

Today the Appleton Post-Crescent prints the names of another group of rural and parochial school boys and girls who are to receive prizes of 50 cents each in the On to Washington contest.

This brings the total number of prizes distributed to date to 104. As usual the contest editor was faced with the difficult task of deciding which boys and girls sent in the best ideas this week. More than 100 letters were received during the week and many of the ideas were excellent. But every student, of course, cannot win a prize with every letter.

Because your name does not appear today, however, should not discourage those boys or girls who sent in letters this week. There are still three weeks left to win prizes.

And here are the winners this week:

Miss Clement Carpenter, Pleasant View school, route 1, Shiocton, is making bread, biscuits and selling them among her neighbors.

Miss Alice Green of St. Nicholas school, Seymour, has planted two long rows of strawberries. She expects to harvest between 150 and 175 quarts of berries for the local markets. Her parents financed this project and she will repay them when she sells her berries.

Miss Sylvia Wied, Clover Lawn school, Bear Creek, is going to make rose beads this summer. The beads are made by grinding rose petals through a food chopper and setting them in a kettle for 24 hours. They are then fried in vasoline which keeps the mass soft so it can be rolled in balls. The beads should be made a little larger than wanted because they shrink. They are strung on a wire and allowed to harden several weeks.

Miss Agnes Hendricks, Ebbesen school route 1, Little Chute, is baking bread and selling it among her neighbors. She must pay for the materials she uses and the profits are her own.

Carl Landtke of the Three Corners school at Shiocton, is making weed-ers to be used in gardening. This is done by cutting a thin piece of tin to a triangular shape sharpening the tin at the bottom, and then fastening the whole to a handle. It has proved a very handy tool in weeding the garden and Carl finds a good market for them among his neighbors.

Leland Deep of Countryside school, Shiocton, suggests that graduates go to their neighbors and offer to clean their cisterns. Cisterns must be cleaned in spring, she says, and older people always dislike this task.

Sylvester Josters of the Fernwood school, town of Freedom, says his school has a penny and an egg collection each week. One day the pupils bring all the spare pennies they can find. The next day each bring an egg or two and these are sold. They find this scheme is working successfully.

Dorothy Vanden Heuvel of the Kimberly public school tells how to make a pillow cushion by using a discarded alarm clock. The "insides" of the clock are removed and the clock is then stuffed with sawdust or old rags. The entire clock is then neatly covered with colored velvet. The handle on the clock permits it to be hung on the wall.

Sun's Rays Help Heal Many Diseases Of Skin

Madison—Sun's rays have great healing powers over some skin diseases. Kneeling on hardwood floors to scrub or paint has been found to be one cause of a troublesome skin eruption called psoriasis.

It is a skin disease prevalent among adults. It is non-contagious and it is always better in summer.

"Such skin diseases are greatly benefited by the afflicted people staying out in the sun," declares the Educational Committee of the State Medical Society in a bulletin today.

"For diseases of the skin, like psoriasis, the sun is one of the most beneficial treatments. Psoriasis is one of the most common of the many diseases which affect the skin. While the disorder is one which is never fatal in its early stages, it usually is such a source of worry as to cause the sufferer to become more or less nervous, and to have feeling of being below par generally."

"The disease is a peculiar kind of an inflammation of the skin which begins, as a rule, with a few small red spots which are covered over with very thin scales. These spots do not cause any symptoms except perhaps a mild degree of itching and are often entirely overlooked for several days. They grow slowly and gradually larger, however, until they have become as large or even larger than a silver dollar and during this time the scales over them have become thicker and thicker so that when the spot has reached its full growth, the scales are the most conspicuous part of the rash. The fact that the scales are of a peculiar silvery white hue adds to the striking appearance of the condition. These have been described as resembling flakes of dried, bested or flakes of mother-of-pearl."

"During the time in which these original patches have attained this stage, other similar spots may have appeared on the skin and gone through the same process, and after a few days or weeks of this, the number of spots may be considerable. While not all psoriasis eruptions make their first appearance on the arms and legs, it is a fact that many do begin near the elbows and knees. On the elbows they are not in the 'bend' of the arm but are on the back of the arm and likewise they are in front of the knees rather than back of them. Another favorite site for the lesions of psoriasis to appear is the scalp. In fact, the elbows, knees and scalp are more apt to be affected than any other part of the body, while the palms and soles are rarely invaded. The rash does not ordinarily affect the face except as the scalp lesions extend down on to the forehead for a quarter of an inch or so.

"A moderately severe nervous or emotional shock will do it and even so commonplace and ordinary anything as the habitual indigestion of excessive amounts of meat or eggs. Patches have been known to appear on knees following the irritation and injury caused by kneeling on hardwood floors to scrub or to paint. While it is true that there are many persons who habitually eat large quantities of meat and who develop a rash of any kind, and while it is true that there are hundreds of painters, housekeepers, etc., who often are called upon to do their work in a kneeling posture and who never heard of psoriasis, yet the fact remains that persons who have psoriasis or have a tendency to have psoriasis cannot do these things with impunity. Digestive and nutritional disturbances of all kinds tend to aggravate the disease. While it happens that psoriasis often occurs in persons of apparently normal health, yet a careful examination will often disclose that the excellence of their health is more apparent than real."

FARMER LUMBERMAN CAN HAVE FINE LIFE

Madison—(AP)—The life of a farmer lumberman can be a prosperous one, according to R. D. Carver, senior forester with the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory here.

He predicted today and increasing demand for farm-forest products—trees cut on timber plots of farms.

"Right now more than two-fifths of the standing timber east of the Great Plains, which is accessible to industrial plants, is in the hands of farmers," Mr. Carver says. "Eventually the log buyer from the industrial plant is coming to the farmer for high-quality timber." One-fourth of Wisconsin's farm acreage is in woodland, he explained.

The farmer must employ proper cutting and landing methods of his farm forest to prosper, and the agriculturist must remember forests are built up like crops—no cutting until maturity, Carver holds. According to Forest Products surveys, timber should not be cut unless trees measure at least 13 inches in diameter.

"There are two main reasons for this," Carver says. "First, small timber is more costly to handle than large timber, and second, and more important from the farmer's standpoint, only the large trees contain a large percentage of clear wood suitable for high grade use."

Nothing could be more ridiculous—in the first place National Tea Co. would not be able to secure or hold competent employees with whom to entrust the care of their stores unless they paid just compensation for honest, efficient service. To get competent employees one must pay as much as others are willing to pay. National Tea Co. fully realizing the importance of competent management does and will pay a premium for ability required.

National Tea Co. have been leaders in bringing about shorter hours and better working conditions in the retail grocery field.

FIND RUBBER TREE TO GROW IN UNITED STATES

Washington —(AP)— Experiment to grow rubber trees in the United States for economic use may find success in plants native to southern Madagascar.

About 25 young trees brought from that island more than a year ago are now flourishing under the scientific eye of the bureau of plant industry of the department of agriculture.

Transplanted at Eard, Cal., and near San Diego, as well as near Miami, Fla., all the plants survived under natural climatic conditions.

In Madagascar where the trees have become practically extinct through commercial exploitation they reach a maximum height of 24 feet with a maximum stem diameter of nearly nine inches, although generally these dimensions are less.

SPIRE FALLS THRU ROOF OF CHURCH HERE

Wind Storm Causes $100,000 Loss in Appleton and Vicinity

carried 100 feet and piled up in the street. A big concrete pillar was snapped off and roofing was rolled up and carried away. The roof on the Willy plant was rolled up and dumped into College-ave, breaking off a pole.

GARAGE CARRIED AWAY

The boys, Arthur Grishaber and Fred Lietz, were working on the car when the storm broke. Arthur tried to shut a door and when he found the wind pressure too strong he stepped between the cars and the next instant the garage was torn from its fastenings and collapsed in the yard about 50 feet away. Part of the roof and one wall was carried across the streets and dumped in a vacant lot at least 150 feet away.

D. Grishaber, the boy's father, was sitting near a window when the glass blew and a splinter knocked a pipe out of his mouth. Shingles from a neighbors building smashed in another window and the floor was covered with debris. A front window in his store was blown out.

Albert Hoppe, 212 S. Weimar-st, found part of his garage in a field at least 300 feet away when the storm ended. The wind lifted the garage completely over his car and dumped part of it over a chicken fence and the remainder was carried across the field and dropped 300 feet away. The car was only slightly damaged.

Aaron Deegs, S. Walter-ave, also lost his garage. The timbers were scattered over an area of several hundred feet. An outhouse at the home of William Cotto was carried around another building and shingles were carried over the entire neighborhood, going through windows in the Grishaber store and home.

A large number of trees were uprooted in this area and a number of power company poles were broken off.

A large tree at the corner of Sixth and State-sts was uprooted and another tree at the C. J. Garvey home, Sixth-st, was broken off and narrowly missed falling on the roof.

A number of windows in downtown stores were broken. Two were splintered at the A. Galpin Sons store and another was blown out at the Montgomery-Ward Co. store.

A barometer at science hall of Lawrence college reported a gradual drop until a few minutes before the storm when it suddenly rose a full point and then crashed the same distance. The condition indicated a gradual drop as low pressure conditions hit the vicinity and then rose a full point with coming of high pressure and dropped abruptly with another low pressure period. The abrupt drop in the barometer indicated rapid changes in atmospheric conditions which produced the high wind.

At Lawrence college the only damage was at new Alexander gymnasium, where 100 feet of gutter pipe was ripped out, nails four inches long coming with the pipe. The down pour also washed out much of the grass seed recently placed on the terrace and slope on the north side of the gym grounds.

Almost all of the eight foot chimneys of the S. C. Shannon company was blown down, the debris being carried into the street. No one was injured by the wreckage.

The clock faces in the tower of the Jefferson school were blown in, and a window in the high school auditorium was broken.

A barn was wrecked and a garage blown over on the Tiedt farm near Leppa's corners.

Two trees were uprooted in the city park, and benches and tables were moved from their positions.

Two chimneys on the government house occupied by the lock tender at the fourth lock were blown off the roof. The house is occupied by Pat Gerarden and family.

The Green Bay-Milwaukee toll line of the Wisconsin Telephone company was put out of commission, between Reedsville and Green Bay and between Plymouth and Reedsville, when two large trees fell over the wires, after being torn from their roots by the strong wind, according to local telephone officials.

The telephone company was not seriously affected by the storm in Appleton. Only a few wire breaks were reported and a few poles were tilted by the strong wind.

Most of the damage on the Milwaukee toll line was repaired early Friday morning and the circuits were restored shortly after 1 o'clock this morning.

The storm just missed Weyauwega, sweeping along a path about two miles south of the village. It unroofed barns on the Albert Kriese and Robert Eudichole farm and ruzed the barn on the Otto Ankham place.

The windmill on the latter farm also was damaged and a shed housing an automobile was torn from the foundation and carried out into an adjoining field. The wind then forced the automobile into the field. The car, however, was not damaged. Between 10 and 15 tons of hay stored in Ankham's barn was scattered over the premises.

The R. Albert Ratzburg woods was next in the storm's path. Trees were broken and uprooted. Telephone poles for about a mile along Highway 19 were torn down.

Little River next felt the effect of the force wind. A number of buildings in the village were damaged. Roofs on sheds owned by Charles Springer and Emil Elert were torn off.

A hail storm in the vicinity of Cicero about 1:30 Thursday afternoon smashed many windows on farm homes and barns. Twenty-two panes in windows of the Martin Zueger farm were smashed and 24 were demolished at the Edward Zueger farm home.

Fourteen panes at the Emil Maluch cheese factory were smashed and Charles Dietrich suffered a loss.

Many electric light posts were tipped at an angle and trees were tipped out by the roots and thrown from 100 feet to a half mile away. It is reported.

BARNS DESTROYED

A barn on the Peter Pelton farm about two miles south of the village of Black Creek was totally destroyed. Barn doors and wagon shed doors on buildings on the Andrew Fischer farm, also about two miles south of the village were carried away.

A chimney on the farm home of Mr. Fischer also was torn off. A barn on the William Ruvaloff farm was moved a foot of its foundation and a silo on the farm was demolished.

A stave silo on the O. P. Rohm farm was tipped at an angle, but was not destroyed. Part of the roof of the barn owned by Peter Uhlenbruch was carried away and a garage on the same farm disappeared, leaving the car standing on the concrete floor.

A milk house owned by Fred Spoehr, one mile west of Black Creek village, was blown into a woods a quarter of a mile away on the William Nest property. A corn crib on the Spoehr farm also was destroyed and a pump-house on the Nest farm was badly damaged.

At the Mortenson farm a mile and a half south of Neenah, on the Lake shore road, the garage which the family was using as a temporary home, was blown down and completely wrecked. Not only was it blown down but the main part of the building was set 40 feet south of its original location. The parents of Mr. Mortenson were occupying the building at the time of the storm and were buried under the debris from which they extricated themselves without injury. Other buildings on the Mortenson property were blown over and scattered.

During the height of the storm the lights at Neenah went out, leaving the city in total darkness for nearly an hour.

The fire department was summoned at 7:30 Friday morning to remove a tree which had blown down during the night on S. Park-ave and which had started to burn from contact with live wires. Several large trees were blown over along the highways, rendering traffic dangerous. One automobile with a fat man was near the Wilms farm on the day there was but little damage reported.

A large steel screen on top of the Lewis meat market on W. Wisconsin-ave used for projecting advertisements, was blown over.

A windmill and silo on the John Schlemisch farm, three miles south of Sherwood was completely crumpled and barn doors and small sheds were torn from their foundations and thrown several hundred feet. A barn on the Fred Hostettler farm, five miles south of Sherwood was torn from its foundation and scattered over the landscape.

A large hip-roof barn, 40 feet wide and 50 feet long on the E. G. Wisemann farm in the village of High Cliff was torn from its foundation and carried 100 feet. The damage is estimated at $7,000.

A large shed on the John Diesen farm was thrown over several fences and carried for about 500 feet. A shed on the Nick Bruch farm was demolished.

The storm in this vicinity lasted about 10 minutes, the worst of it abating after about 6 minutes.

A large barn on the Ray Coorhan farm at Onelia was completely demolished when it was torn from its foundation. Another large barn on the farm owned by Mrs. Abbie Christjohn was demolished. A big shed on the George Van Veeke farm, Onelia also was torn from its foundation and wrecked when it struck the ground.

A hip-roof barn on the Harry Beach property at Dundas was blown to pieces and another on the John Heelchell farm, also at Dundas, met a similar fate. A barn on the Theodore Barber farm, was moved about a foot of its foundation.

Part of a silo on the farm of Ray Kees near Sherwood, was torn down, a shed and several small buildings were wrecked and four large trees near the house were torn up by the roots. On the farm belonging to John Suttner, barn doors were torn off, the chimney on the house was blown down and several small buildings were damaged.

The silo owned by Vern Mander, was wrecked and a chimney on the William Maus home and several sheds and small buildings were demolished.

The storm at Bad-amounted to a cyclone, damaging silos, barns, and garages, blowing down chimneys and breaking windows. The silos of Lyle Ray, Gerald Ruppel and Albert Kaufman were completely wrecked and others were damaged. Garages belonging to Clarence Abraham, Paul Price and Herman Schwartz were demolished, among them the one owned by William Lamb which was almost totally wrecked. A number of chimneys were blown down the roof of the Dale Hotel was damaged and the front window blown in.

On the farm owned by George Klippe, route 2, Appleton, two farm buildings were unroofed. A peach vineyard under construction in the vicinity of Freedom was blown down. On the farm of Peter Uhlenbruch,

Even Venus Wouldn't Have Chance In Beauty Contest

BY MINOTT SAUNDERS

Paris—Venus herself would have no chance in a modern beauty competition, judging by the brief career of Emmy Kuster, elected queen of the beauties of Holland and then dethroned because she was "old and married."

Yet the reign of Queen Emmy, brief as it was, has only increased her following and brought something like a revival of beauty contests the world over.

The grave judges of The Hague beauty judges—examined many contestants in the competition for the selection of a queen to choose "Miss Holland" to represent the country in the international beauty contest in America. Unanimously they chose Emmy Kuster, who was to them everything that a Dutch beauty should be. Emmy was hair-challenged her charms could challenge the world.

But alas, the popularity of Emmy led to an enthusiastic inquiry into her private life. It was discovered that she was past 30 years of age, that she had been married for 11 years and had not only a husband, but a daughter of nine.

Mostly the judges met again, disqualified her for this regrettable part of her life and named as Miss Holland the original second choice, Mile. Die Van de Rest. Reclamations for the selection of these beauties stipulate that they must be unmarried and not over 25 years of age. Obviously Emmy Kuster with her burdens of child and years, would not, though she remains as beautiful as ever.

Why should married women, and especially those who have known the glory of motherhood, be denied recognition of their beauty and excluded from this tournament? asks Clement Vautel, well-known satirical writer in Le Journal of Paris.

"It was not this, on Mount Ida," he says, "Two of the immortals who disputed the prize of Black Creek a machine shed, hog pen and barn were unroofed. In the hog barn 200 pigs were killed. A machine shed on the farm of Frank Duhaes was wrecked.

The cyclone damage at Green Bay and vicinity amounted to approximately $300,000, according to reports received here Friday morning. Between 75 and 100 barns and farm homes were destroyed or badly damaged by the wind which was traveling at an approximate speed of 10 miles an hour, according to the official record.

The storm was general throughout the northwestern part of Wisconsin, being exceptionally violent through Alaska, Denmark and north through Green Bay and to the peninsula. Much damage was reported to homes and farms around Shawano, according to reports received from Green Bay.

ated by the Shepherd Paris were married June with Jupiter and Venus with Vulcan, and this latter beauty had given birth for our day of happiness, to Cupid.

Minerva had the right, therefore, if the rule of the contest had been in these days as in our time, to say to the young shepherd: "I am the only young girl here, so give me the apple."

"Minerva was not bad for those who like them serious, but then, there was no possible comparison with Venus."

"It seems to me that in a beauty contest beauty alone should be considered. Marriage, and even maternity, do not spoil a woman's lines. How many angular, languid, and even ugly girls become quite good-looking after having boarded the conjugal barge and fulfilled the essential function of their sex, that of motherhood. This happy metamorphosis, often, presented by the family doctor is sufficient proof that the result should be barred from a contest for the most beautiful flower."

"Further, it is bad policy in these days of sexual anarchy, and despoliation to consider marriage as a downfall and maternity as a blight."

It is permissible to believe that a woman of 30 be finished from an aesthetic point of view on the contrary, to my opinion, the things are for the opposite. The age of real beauty, beauty representing not a promise, but a realization.

"The disqualification of the poor Dutch girl seems to me to be a scandalous clanking of justice and good sense, which are synonymous."

Vautel concludes by suggesting that, this being an international competition, the ex-Miss Holland would be well advised to ask the judges to consider the fact that she was a mother and a wife.

Black Creek a machine shed, hog pen and barn were unroofed. In the hog barn 200 pigs were killed. A machine shed on the farm of Frank Duhaes was wrecked.

The cyclone damage at Green Bay and vicinity amounted to approximately $300,000, according to reports received here Friday morning. Between 75 and 100 barns and farm homes were destroyed or badly damaged by the wind which was traveling at an approximate speed of 10 miles an hour, according to the official record.

The storm was general throughout the northwestern part of Wisconsin, being exceptionally violent through Alaska, Denmark and north through Green Bay and to the peninsula. Much damage was reported to homes and farms around Shawano, according to reports received from Green Bay.

Work has started on the grading and paving of the streets leading into the Pabst-Candy company, Lawrence, Eighth and Whitman-sts. The work probably will take two weeks.

FEDERAL AID FOR INJURED WORKMEN HINGES ON BILL

Rehabilitation Measure Passed by House, Goes to Senate

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent

Washington—Continued federal aid for Wisconsin's program for rehabilitating its workers injured in industry will result if the Senate passes the vocational rehabilitation bill passed Monday by the House of Representatives.

If the bill is not passed by the Senate, federal aid for this work which has been available for nine years, will cease on June 30. The bill continues it for three years.

Rep. John C. Schafer of Milwaukee sought strenuously but unsuccessfully to change the bill so that constantly increasing amounts would be allocated for the work, as was provided in the bill as originally introduced by Rep. Daniel A. Reed of New York, chairman of the House of Representatives Committee on Education.

The Schafer amendments would have made $1,250,000 available next year, $1,500,000 the following year, and $1,750,000 the third year, instead of $1,000,000 a year which is the present amount.

Wisconsin this year is getting $250,000 from Uncle Sam to help restore her injured sons and daughters to remunerative work, and will continue to get about this amount for the next three years, depending upon the relation of Wisconsin's population to the population of the country as a whole.

George P. Haubrecht of Madison, state director of vocational education, William F. Fogarty of Madison, supervisor of rehabilitation for Wisconsin, and Dr. John Lapp of Marquette University, Milwaukee, appeared before the Committee on Education in behalf of the bill when hearings were held, and urged its passage on the 6-year basis with progressively increasing funds up to $2,500,000 at the end of the period.

Haubrecht is president of the National Association of State Directors of Vocational Education. The bill was amended to meet the suggestions of the Bureau of the Budget, except that the budget recommended that the federal aid be continued for only two years instead of three.

Wisconsin is spending $45,000 in addition to the federal aid received, and Milwaukee is spending $5,000 for vocational rehabilitation work. Wisconsin started this work in 1912, three years before federal aid was available.

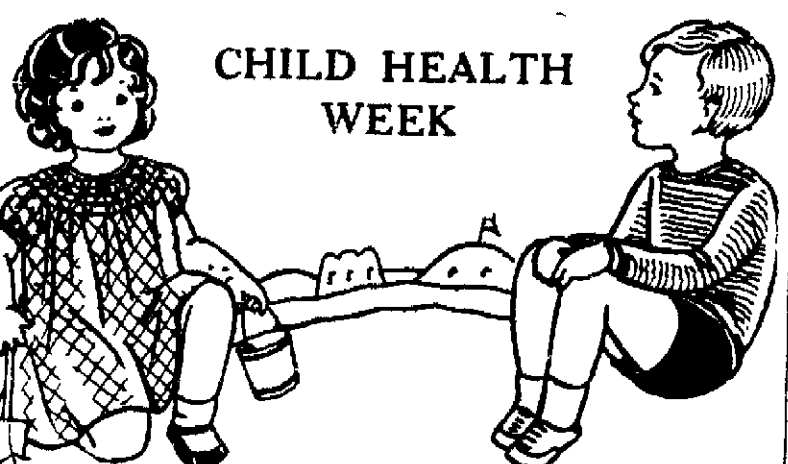

According to figures of the Federal Board for Vocational Education, the net gain to the people of Wisconsin in increased earning power resulting from the rehabilitation work during the 8-year period from 1921 to 1929 was $4,469,424.33, while the total cost of the rehabilitation service was only $215,351.44.

During this period, Wisconsin reported to wage-earning capacity 1,581 disabled persons, and their earning power after rehabilitation was 266 per cent higher than before. Their net capital increase in annual earnings after rehabilitation was $711.93, while the state paid an average of $38.21 for rehabilitating each person.

ET SUPPLY OF NEW 2-CENT STAMPS HERE

A supply of 20,000 of the special postage stamps issued by the federal department to commemorate the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the province of Carolina have been received at the Appleton post office. The stamps are of 2-cent denomination, printed in red, of the same design as the regular 2-cent stamp, and dates 1680 and 1930 appear on stamp along with the figures of colonial governor and an Indian. The stamps are to be distributed on request and when the present supply is exhausted no more can be ordered, according to William H. Zuehlke, acting postmaster.

FOUR NEW COURSES ARE ANNOUNCED ON LAWRENCE CAMPUS

Program Includes Seminar on Human Relations in Industries

With the announcement of four new courses by Lawrence college today came the revelation of a seminar in Human Relations in Industries to be given two evenings a week throughout the year 1930-31 by a group of professors of the college and a group from the staff of the Kimberly-Clark corporation, under the general chairmanship of S. F. Shattuck. Shattuck is a vice president of the Kimberly-Clark organization in charge of the personnel department.

Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of the college, in commenting on the new course, pointed out that it will "attempt to meet one of the most current objections raised against college trained men, namely, that they are unable to offer solutions in spite of their ability to gather the facts."

Selected problems such as wages, incentives, pensions, rating methods and welfare will be studied from the standpoint of the employee, employer, and society, it is stated. The student's work will consist in intensive research of a chosen problem. Discussions of these problems and the reports of both faculty and students will be carried on at the round table meetings of the group twice a week.

OPEN TO SENIORS
The course as outlined will be only open to senior students showing special fitness for the type of study involved, it was announced. This is another step by the college to bring its resources in direct contact with industry in general. The Institute of paper chemistry was the first important move in this direction. The vocational conferences between Lawrence students and industrial and professional leaders also is another attempt to better prepare students for entrance into the business world.

Among the other new courses, is a three-hour course meeting on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 10 o'clock in American Statesmen, by John MacHarg. This requires a history prerequisite and senior rank. It will take up a biographical study of the lives of American leaders from 1492 to 1870, with principal emphasis on the Civil War period.

Miss Olga Smith will teach a four hour course in General Bacteriology, which requires only the consent of the instructor. It will contain a general survey of the principles of bacteriology with a discussion of its industrial and hygienic applications. The Institute of Paper Chemistry offers a course in Mechanics to college students showing exceptional qualifications.

Changes in the present course of study include the changing of the course in Design and Decoration, offered by Dr. Fairfield, head of the art department from a semester to a full year course. The course in

Convicts at Ohio Pen Defy Warden

A ring of steel—machine guns and rifles in the hands of 1500 National Guardsmen—encircled the Ohio State Penitentiary at Columbus as 4000 prisoners remained in control of the prison in a state of passive mutiny, refusing to return to work after the disastrous fire in which 329 convicts burned to death and demanding that Governor Cooper remove Warden Preston L. Thomas.

"Big Jim" Morton, Cleveland bank robber and one of the convict leaders, is shown at the right. Morton, a hero of the fire, sent out word that there would be no violence, but insisted that Warden Thomas be ousted.

NAME COMMITTEEMEN FOR TRAINING CAMPS

Members of the Outagamie county committee in charge of county enrollment for Citizens Military Training camps, and members of the physical examining board have been named on astronomy formerly listed under the department of Mathematics has been changed to the department of Physics.

The elementary course in Political Science will be open to freshman only in the coming year and student unable to take it in the first year will meet in a separate class. The course in statistics, formerly purely economic and business in type, will be altered to meet the needs of the departments of education and sociology as well. Minor changes occur in the courses offered in dramatics, English, education and religion.

by Maj. C. P. Evers, U. S. Army, Green Bay, according to word received here.

The board of examiners is composed of the following physicians: Dr. G. W. Carlson, Dr. W. J. Fawcett, Dr. D. F. Gallager, Dr. C. C. Marx, Dr. E. F. Mc Gath, Dr. D. J. O'Connor, and Dr. G. M. Pratt.

SUMMER FURS ARE ALMOST ANY KIND

And They Are Dyed in Colors Never Dreamed of by Grower

BY AILEEN LAMONT
Copyright, 1931, By Cons. Press
New York—(CPA)—Designers and stylists talk about "summer furs" more fashionable than ever this season. What they mean seems to be any fur of light weight, particularly if it be dyed in some color of which its original grower never dreamed.

Ermine and lapin in any shade you please, but especially in sand and cocoa. Also fitch, caracul, lynx, gilyak, and fox. The heavier of the lighter furs are used sparingly, for after all it may be a hot summer.

For wear with the summer shoe of white or beige kidskin, there are more hosiery colors in a season when all hosiery colors seemed already to have been presented. Crocote beige and sun beige, for example, which are beige with a difference, and desert haze, which has subtly. Thanks to different and subtle shades, the less you see of legs, the more interesting they get.

Thin suede gloves in beautiful off-white tones are a worth while feature of the season. Some are in oyster, others in delicate beige or eggshell, or gray faintly tinged with mauve. There are pearl buttons, and buttons in the shape of large, single pearls.

8,016 Grade Crossings Still Exist In State

Wisconsin has fewer grade crossings and fewer unprotected grade crossings than its neighbor states but still has 8,016 crossings and 6,784 unprotected crossings, a survey conducted by the American Automobile association shows.

Minnesota has 8,529 crossings, 8,031 of them unprotected; Iowa 11,416 and 10,648; Illinois 16,408 and 13,231; Indiana 10,244 and 7,554; and Michigan 9,662 and 8,121.

In 1929 a total of 385 railroad grade crossings were eliminated on the national federal-aid systems. Wisconsin was tied for 10th place with Arkansas and South Carolina, each eliminating 12. The state was third with five in eliminating crossings by grade separations.

ELIMINATION ONLY SAFE-GUARD
Elimination of grade crossings is regarded by the bureau of public roads as the only positive means of reducing the heavy toll of human life taken annually at points where highways and railways cross.

The various protective devices, including gates and watchmen, though necessary until eliminations can be effected, do not afford adequate protection on heavily traveled roads and are objectionable also because of their obstruction of the free movement of traffic on the highways, the bureau believes.

There is an average of one unprotected grade crossing to every 14 miles of highway of all types in the United States, and, despite the advances in other fields of safety, the number is being increased at the rate of more than a thousand a year, the safety department of the American Automobile association reports.

2,165 DEATHS IN 1928
Automobiles figured in 5,046 out of 5,300 accidents at highway grade crossings in 1928, with a toll of 2,165 deaths and 6,218 injured, according to the traffic department of the Wisconsin division, A. A. A.

The traffic department bases this statement on figures just received from the safety department of the A. A. A.
"As compared with the two preceding years, there was a considerable increase as a result of collisions between trains and automobiles." During the year there were 50 such derailments, causing the death of 22 persons and the injury of 47.

The traffic department of the Wisconsin division A. A. A. pointed out that there is a marked increase from year to year in the number of accidents involving automobiles, despite the intensive drives for safety

A Cake Flour That Avoids Ordinary Cake Flour Faults
This new cake flour is made especially to overcome the 3 common ways women say ordinary cake flours fail. It is called GOLD MEDAL Cake Flour—made by the millers of GOLD MEDAL "Kitchen-tested" Flour.

It gives you velvety, fine-textured cakes instead of "uneven," coarse-textured cakes. Gives you high, full, fluffy cakes instead of cakes that are soggy and heavy. Gives you rich, full-flavored cakes that retain their moisture instead of dry, tasteless cakes that quickly stale.

It is made only of the hearts of a certain rare type of wheat—whose gluten acts ENTIRELY DIFFERENTLY with baking powder than gluten of ordinary flour. In your own interest, try it, please. Results will be a revelation to you—if not, your money is refunded. Get at any grocery store. Just ask for GOLD MEDAL Cake Flour.

Lawrence And H. S. Tracksters In Meets Saturday

VIKINGS COMPETE IN DUAL AGAINST RIPON AT RIPON

Crimson Expected to Cop; Strength of Lawrence Squad Unknown

COACH Arthur C. Denney of the Lawrence college track and field team will take his proteges over to Ripon Saturday morning and in the afternoon they will clash with Carl Doehling's hopes in the first meet of the Big Four season for both schools. Advance dope favors Ripon to win the meet.

Practically all of Denney's squad is being taken on the jaunt so the coach may get a positive slant on the possibilities of each man. The Vikings enter the Wisconsin Intercollegiate meet at Milwaukee next Friday and only the best performers will have the privilege of competing at Marquette stadium.

There is some chance the Vikings may surprise in their performance Saturday. It might be said the squad is a bit better balanced this season than before taking it for granted that the contestants in field events will crash through. Last season and the year previous the Vikes were woefully weak in field events.

But the strength in shot, discus and javelin is offset by apparent weakness in the middle distances and hurdles. The latter event has been a bugbear since the Hyde twins graduated while Pope's absence from the dashes leaves the big job up to Ray Beal.

The strength of the Crimson clad squad of Ripon is not known. Coach Doehling has had his team out for several weeks but the men so far have not competed in any meets where their skill was tested.

Viking entries in the various events follow:

100 yard dash—Brussat, Fischl, Arthur, Bradley.

220 yard dash—Brussat, Fischl, Arthur, Bradley, Vender.

440 Yorder, Anson, Rasmussen, Bradley.

Half mile—Anson, Miller, Kozelka.

Mile—Wolf, Seig, Jesse, Emstrom.

Two mile—Wolfe, Jesse.

High hurdles—Cannon, Aldrich.

Low hurdles—Calhoun.

Broad jump—Brussat, Cannon, Bradley.

High jump—Calhoun, Aldrich.

Pole vault—Calhoun, Cannon, Schier.

Shot put—Krohn, Schneller.

Discus—Jessup, Schneller.

Javelin—Kinkosky.

RIPON READY

Ripon—(P)—The Redmen today prepared for their first real track test prior to the all state meet at Milwaukee May 10, as they went through final training for the Ripon-Lawrence dual meet Saturday afternoon.

DROP AUSTIN FROM BRITISH NET TEAM

First Ranking Player of Kingdom Seems to Have Gone Stale

London—(P)—When Great Britain plays its second round The against either Rumania or Poland in European zone Davis cup competition, Henry W. Austin, first ranking tennis player in the kingdom, will not be a member of the team.

The decision to drop Austin, for the second round at least, was reached after the erratic youth had been beaten decisively by E. C. Peters in the British hard court championships at Loughborough on Wednesday. Peters, who beat Big Bill Tilden on the Riviera earlier in the season, overwhelmed Austin by scores of 6-2, 6-4, 6-0.

Austin said afterwards that he was tired and worn out with playing tennis and the general opinion was that he had gone stale.

According to present arrangements, Austin's place on the Davis cup team will be taken by Charles Kingley who played on the British teams of 1925 and 1926.

LEGION SOFTBALL PLAYERS MEET MONDAY

Softball players who have performed on the team representing Oney Johnston post of the American Legion will gather at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon at Pierce park and organize for the opening of the National league season Tuesday. Eddie Steward will organize the group and direct it in its first effort.

All the old timers have been asked to put in their appearance with as many others as figure they can out some of the boys whose muscles and legs are beginning to creak.

ST. PAUL NINE WINS BASEBALL GAME, 19-12

St. Paul school baseball team won a 19 and 12 decision over St. Theresa team in the second of a series of games. Members of the St. Paul team were Milton Court, Carlton Ziegler, Norman Schroeder, Earl Lynd, H. Springstroh, Kenneth Falk, Lloyd Kositzke. Three home runs by Milton Court, Timm and Kenneth Falk featured the game.

LEGION BOWLERS AT MENASHA SUNDAY

American legion bowling team number 13 from Oney Johnston post, Appleton will invade Menasha Sunday to roll in the annual state legion bowling meet, according to announcement by H. W. Miller, post athletic officer. The team is scheduled to take the runways at 7 o'clock Sunday evening.

Simpson Wins Again

Here's part of the closed corporation in the 100 yard dash and as usual George Simpson, Ohio State U. is winning the jaunt. The Negro of course is Tolon of Michigan while Bracey is behind Simpson and partially obscured.

Century Dashmen Have Clique All Their Own

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS

CHICAGO — The 100-yard dash, most widely advertised of all track events, is at present perhaps the least interesting. The collegiate century club is very much a closed corporation and there is little chance of any outsider winning from any of the eight members when they go to the wire.

The present membership of the club consists of George Simpson of Ohio, State and Eddie Tolon of Michigan, representing the midwest; Cy Leland of Texas Christian and Claude Bracey of Rice in the south; Karl Wildermuth of Georgetown and Jimmie Daly of Holy Cross in the east and Alec Dyer of Stanford and Frank Wykoff of Southern California.

U. S. WOMEN GOLFERS LOSE FIRST MATCH

Now Will Prepare for British Women's Championship Tournament

Summingdale, England—(P)—Beat in their first competition abroad, Glenna Collett and her American women golfing comrades now have their eyes fixed on the British women's championship which will be played at Forbury the week of May 12.

Miss Collett's team bowed to a picked English squad headed by Molly Gourlay yesterday. Eight matches to six with one halved, but the Americans made a surprisingly good showing in view of the fact they had arrived in England only two days previously.

If anything were needed to prove the invaders had needed more time to acclimatize to their sea legs, the brilliant showing of Maureen O'Connell, Englewood N. J., star, provided it. Miss O'Connell, who preceded the rest of the team by a week, not only defeated her singles opponent, Mrs. J. E. Watson, 4 and 2, but paired with Mrs. H. A. Martell of Hartford, Conn., to win in foursomes from Dorothy Pearson and Phyllis Lobett, 7 and 6.

Miss Collett herself was beaten in both singles and foursomes.

All seventeen members of Miss Collett's team will play in the British Women's championship as will five other Americans the most noted of whom is Mrs. Dorothy Campbell of Philadelphia.

GIRL ATHLETES HERE SATURDAY

Lawrence College Department Holds First Women's Track Meet of Season

Girl athletes from Fox river Valley and Clintonville and New London high schools will gather here Saturday morning to be guests of Lawrence college women's athletic department at a track meet and general field day. More than 100 young ladies are expected for the meet.

The day's activity will open with a luncheon at Russell Sage dormitory at noon and will be followed by a mixer from 1:15 to 1:45. At 2 o'clock the girls will be organized into teams and mixing games will be played until 2:30 at which time baseball, volleyball, and soccer football will be played. There also will be several relays. An open house program at Ormsby hall will complete the program. Mrs. John Mills, women's athletic director at Lawrence is supervising the meet, the first of its kind ever held here.

WOLVERINES, TIGERS WIN SOFTBALL GAMES

The Wolverines and the Tigers won their softball games Thursday evening in the Older Boy league sponsored by the boys department of the Y M C A. The Wolves copped their win from the Sophs by an 8 and 4 margin while the Tigers lambasted the Hi-Y to win 11 and 9.

Spotting the Sophs a three run lead, the Wolverines came from behind and pounded one run across the plate in the fourth inning, again in the fifth and then three in the sixth and again in the seventh.

The Tiger win over the Hi-Y was a rout and a swiftest. The Tigers trailed by a lone run at the end of the second inning but continued to pound the ball while holding the Hi-Y scoreless.

EXPECT 10,000 FANS WILL SEE BREWS OPEN

Milwaukee—(P)—Approximately 10,000 fans are expected to be on hand at Brecht field this afternoon when the Brewers open their home season by mixing with the Columbus team. Manager Marty Berghammer refused to announce who would occupy the mound for the home opening.

Coaches assembled at Drake made a nice gesture when they inaugurated the Steve Farrell trophy for all future century dashes at Des Moines. The trophy will commemorate the long years the retiring Michigan coach spent in training track and field men and when the new trophy was announced old Steve—still hale and hearty—took a salvo of applause from the big crowd. Steve is one of the few connecting links between the old and new in track athletics and popular wherever he goes.

SOUTHPAW STARTS HOLE IN ONE CLUB

Kenosha—(P)—Joe Keating today claimed membership in what he believes is Wisconsin's only left-handed hole-in-one club. He made an ace while playing a solo game the other day. Joe says it had enough to get someone to believe that a right-handed golfer made a hole-in-one, and when a left-handed one tells the story, no one believes it.

COLLINS WILL NOT DEFEND CUE TITLE

Chicago—(P)—Percy N. Collins of Chicago, will not defend his national amateur 182 ballline billiard championship against Edgar T. Appleby of New York, until next September. Appleby filed his challenge for a title match this month, but business affairs made it impossible for Collins to play before autumn.

St. Paul—My Sullivan, St. Paul, outpointed Jack McCarthy, Chicago, (10); Jimmy Gibbons, St. Paul, knocked out Chuck Golden, Minneapolis (3).

ORANGE ENTERED IN FOURTH ANNUAL MANITOWOC RELAYS

Shields Taking Four Teams and Entrants in All Special Events

APPLETON high school track and field team will invade Manitowoc Saturday afternoon for the annual Manitowoc relays for valley conference teams. Appleton is entering in each of the four relays and in all but one of the special events.

The Orange will go into the meet ranked as a contender but hardly as a winner. The Ships again have splendidly balanced relay squads with Capt. O'Neil and a chap named Larsen as the outstanding numbers and therefore the men picked to pull the Red and White through to victories.

Coach Joseph Shields' men also are a bit handicapped as they enter their first meet. While they have gone through various preliminary workouts such as limbering up and passing the baton, they so far have not galvanized over the various distances with a check on their time. Workouts all have been held at Whiting athletic field and with the Lawrence college squad also using the track the Orange is at a disadvantage.

Shields expects to accomplish comparatively little in the special events being run as sidelights to the relays. He has little strength in field events to date, having no shot putter at all and only one man to enter the high hurdles.

However, he considers the Manitowoc meet one where his proteges will get experience and regardless their showing as far as points are concerned, he is of the opinion they'll profit much.

Entries for the relays are: 880—Krohn, Steinacher, Batley and Wolgram.

Two mile—Vernier, DeYoung or Gabriel, Reeve, Babino.

Medley—Wolgram the 220, Steinacher the 440, Batley the 880 and Heker the mile.

Entries in the special events are: 100 yard dash — Wolgram and Krohn.

220 yard dash — Wolgram and Krohn.

440—Steinacher, Froger, Bradford, Burdick and Zuelke.

Half mile—G. DeYoung, Reeve, Batley, Verrier and Gabriel.

Mile—Babino, Heker, G. DeYoung, Low Hurdles—Batley and Krohn.

High hurdles—Foote.

Broadjump—Wolgram.

High jump—Foote, Mortell.

Pole vault—Neller, Trettin, Foote.

Discus—Zimdas.

Javelin—Gochbauer and Mortell.

Saturday's meet is scheduled to begin at 1:30 according to Coach Shields.

A week from Saturday the Orange will step out of the valley conference for the first time in several years and will enter in a quadrangular meet with Stevens Point, Wausau and Wisconsin Rapids.

The week of May 17, a dual meet with Oshkosh at Appleton is booked and May 24 a triangular meet with Oshkosh and West Green Bay at Appleton. May 31 is the conference meet at Marinette.

ATLANTANS TAKE BET ON BOBBY JONES' SKILL

Atlanta—(P)—If Bobby Jones wins the four major golf tournaments this year Atlanta friends will realize a total of $125,000 on a speculation of $2,500.

Lloyds of London is betting 50 to 1 he will not win the British and American amateur and open tournaments. Nobody ever has won them all and the stipulation is that Bobby shall do this season.

Though the price seems short, Atlantans have taken out policies in units of $5-500 of them. The fact Bobby has been on the top of his game convinces them it is a good sporting proposition.

Appleton Loses Claim To Woman Mat Star

Appleton loses its claim to Virginia Mercereau, former contender for the women's wrestling championship of the world, in another few days when Miss Mercereau, better known to Appleton people as Marie Diderrich, moves to Newark, N. J. to make her home.

But as far as Miss Mercereau is concerned the wrestling game has already lost its claim to her and so has the vaudeville stage. A few years ago a woman wrestler was quite a novelty and there was considerable competition for the national crown then held by Cora Livingston.

Miss Mercereau, working in a Milwaukee department store, became interested in the sport and with considerable practice and instruction she developed into a wrestler of no mean ability and sought Miss Livingston's crown.

With the resultant interest the new phase of women's sports was creating, Miss Mercereau toured the country meeting men wrestlers in exhibition bouts. During that time she visited Appleton and participated in several fights at the armory.

The "racket" failed to gain much favor, however, because of the taboo put on mixed bouts. Even the vaudeville bookers failed to "see" the card and then Miss Mercereau took to the stage via a musical route, playing an accordion. But that has failed to appeal to her and it's all off from now on. She played several well known circuits for a few years and now has decided to abandon the effort.

Miss Mercereau was accordion soloist at the Elk club bowling banquet Tuesday evening and was one of the feature's of the program.

OPEN CLUBHOUSE AT BUTTE DES MORTS

Earl Bolden Again Named Caterer; Club Staff Now Is Complete

Formal opening of the clubhouse at Butte des Morts golf course Saturday, has been announced by George K. Vitense, recently named manager of the clubhouse. Earl Bolden again will be caterer. A party Saturday night for club members is being planned as the opening event.

With opening of the clubhouse and naming of Bolden as caterer, the staff at the course now is complete. Vitense is manager and professional with Jake Mathews as assistant pro. Clarence Currie will have charge of the pro's office and counters while Tommy Stilt will direct and instruct caddies.

Mathews formerly was assistant professional at Nakoma course, Madison, and is a golfer and instructor of no mean ability in his own name. He also will repair and take care of clubs. Stilt was assistant caddy master on the west coast during the winter and caddied for several ranking professionals during the winter golf jaunt from California to Florida.

Walter Letter is locker room boy.

440—Steinacher, Froger, Bradford, Burdick and Zuelke.

Half mile—G. DeYoung, Reeve, Batley, Verrier and Gabriel.

Mile—Babino, Heker, G. DeYoung, Low Hurdles—Batley and Krohn.

MACKS, BOSTON COP ONLY 2 GAMES IN MAJOR LEAGUES

Athletics Step Out and Register 19 Runs Against Harris' Team

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

THE opening of the intersectional play in the major leagues is generally considered as starting the first real tests of relative strength among the teams.

The intersectional action of the 1930 campaign begins in earnest today after a two-game preview yesterday which gave an exciting hint of what may happen.

In the American league contest, the rather battered world's champions, the Philadelphia Athletics, opened their first real attack of the year to trounce the Detroit Tigers, 19 to 2.

Against Detroit, the Athletics played a vastly different brand of baseball. They started slugging with the first pitch as Max Bishop opened the action with a home run, and they slowed up in only two innings. The final count showed 18 hits for Philadelphia, including five home runs, three doubles and two triples, while the Tigers could get but seven blows from Lefty Grove, who struck out nine.

The western representative also went down in the National league's first intersectional game as the Boston Braves took a surprise decision from the Pittsburgh Pirates. The final score, gained by three Boston home runs, was 4 to 3.

Walter Berger spoiled a promising pitching duel in yesterday's game by hitting a pair of home runs in successive innings. Up to the seventh, Harry Selbold of Boston and Larry French of Pittsburgh had fought it out with only one run for Pittsburgh. Then Berger tied the score with a homer. Neun followed his example and the Braves bunched singles for a third run. Berger's second homer came in the eighth.

Sports Question Box

Question—Did Ben Chapman play with the New York Yankees prior to this season? If so what position did he play?

Answer—He never played with them regularly but was under their control.

Question—Will Red Cagle coach at West Point this year? What branch of service will he be in?

Answer—It is understood he will coach. He will be in the Infantry.

Question—What is the longest distance that Bob Meusel ever has thrown a ball?

Answer—Impossible to answer that question because all of his longer throws never have been measured.

Question—When and where is the National Open golf tournament to be held?

Answer—At Minneapolis in July.

Question—What is the average yearly salary of the team on which Babe Ruth plays? By the team I mean the squad regularly carried on road trips. What is the average with Ruth excluded?

Answer—The only persons who can answer that question correctly are the officials of the New York club and they decline to make the figures public.

Question—Was the original Jack Dempsey a heavyweight?

Answer—No a middleweight and one of the greatest fighters of any weight that ever lived.

A French military plane recently crashed to the roof of a house at Lyons, killing the two aviators and injuring a woman in the house.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
UB Pruett, the frail young man pitching for the Giants this year, is studying surgery. Frank January Bruen thinks the Sharkey-Schmeling fight will pass $1,000,000. He bases that on the requests for tickets which already have begun coming in. That is, requests for press seats. Whenever the press shows interest this early, it is a good sign, thinks Frank. If you make a hole in one in Dallas, Texas, here's what you get: golf socks, $5 towards a radio, 12 golf balls, a $20 wrist watch, set of golf clubs and bag, $5 credit at rug-cleaning establishment, inner tube for an automobile tire, room and bath for a week at a Dallas hotel, bottle of automobile polish (not for drinking purposes), bridge smoking set, $10 credit at a music store, season pass to an amusement park, airplane swing for the kiddies and a barbecued ham. Only one wrestler ever won the title in his first effort. Joe Steiner, who beat Frank Lurich in 1913 after Gotch had reired.

Short Sports

Chicago yachting enthusiasts will have a midnight race this summer.

Morris W. Johnson, honor student, was awarded a trophy recently by the North Carolina State college because he is the school's outstanding athlete. He starred at the three major sports the past three years.

Orville E. Neal, former star half-back at Western Maryland college is now head football coach of Virginia Polytechnic. He succeeds Andy Gustafson, who returns to his alma mater, Pittsburgh, as backfield coach.

Exactly seven pitched balls resulted in three hits, one player hit by a pitched ball, two runs and three putouts in a recent game between Newark and Toronto of the International League with the latter team at bat.

Miss Jessie C. Brandon coached the Odessa high school soccer team of Elmira, N. Y., to a championship in the Tri-County Soccer league. She is one of the few women in the country in charge of a high school athletic team composed of boys.

Louis B. Dailey, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, is an ambidextrous tennis player. He got the habit from switching his racket for backhand shots.

During a recent tournament to decide the baseball championship among secondary schools in Japan, the attendance was 220,000 in three days. The games were played at Koshien Stadium, near Osaka, Japan.

Clarence DeMar, who at 42 recently won the Boston marathon, was awarded "letters" by two universities, although he did not participate in athletics at either institution. The insignias were given him by the University of Vermont and Harvard University for feats achieved after graduation.

THE BIG SHOT

by FRANK L. PACKARD

SYNOPSIS: What she conceives as a justifiable cause—the regeneration of her brother—leads Enid Howard to become a burglar for a night. In the guise of an old woman she sets out to rob a safe in the P. J. Murkman home and thwart the Big Shot whom she still believes is her brother despite his denials. Guided by a coded message, she gains entrance to the luxurious home through a window and finds the hidden wall safe. By the rays of her flashlight she turns the combination. Fear grips her as she hears a footstep behind the portiere. Leaving the flashlight playing on the safe she flees from the room and locks the door against her pursuers. She barely escapes capture. Back in her room she fearfully awaits the return of the Big Shot. But to her surprise, when the door-bell rings, Phil Martin is there.

Chapter 33
TELL-TALE EVIDENCE
“OU—Phil!” Enid gasped. I told you never to come here.”
“Yes—so you did, But I am here!”
There was a harsh note in his voice and Enid had a strange feeling of impending disaster.
He was stepping forward over the threshold now—but now she blocked the way. Of all nights, not tonight! Roy was coming back! Roy might be here at any minute.
“No, not!” she protested anxiously. “I—I can’t let you in! Oh, I warned you never—never to come here!”
And then, before she had scarcely realized what he was doing, he had pushed her almost roughly away from the door, and had stepped into the hall.
His voice came harshly again, as he closed the door behind him: “You go along there into that lighted room I see down the hall! I’ll talk to you in there!”
“Phil!” she cried out wildly. “What does this mean? Why do you speak to me like that?”
“Go on into that room!” he repeated.
She obeyed him mechanically. She found her way to the desk and leaned against it—for suddenly her knees felt strangely weak. What did this mean? He was standing there on the threshold now—unbuttoning his coat. His face was haggard, ashen.
And then from under his coat he took out an object that, crumpled as it was, she could not mistake, and the sight of which, she knew, left her own face bloodless too.
“Here’s your hat!” he said hoarsely.
He flung it toward her. It struck the typewriter and fell to the floor on the far side of the desk.
She did not move. It did not seem as though she had the power to move—or the power to speak. It seemed as though she had never seen so white a face as his.
“Is that all you have to say?” he laughed at her bitterly. “You know very well how I got it, don’t you? I found it in the cellar of the Murkman house—beneath the basement window!” He came a step toward her. “Last night you asked me how I was going to explain the presence of the ‘mysterious woman’ in my story. Do you know what I wrote? Did you read the papers?”
She shook her head.
“I’ll tell you, then. I said it was a woman who must have been one of the gang—but, oh, my God, I didn’t know I was telling the truth!”
He was rocking on his feet, his words pouring from him in a shaking voice. “A thief! A criminal! You! I said she helped me to escape because she had probably taken pity on me; and that then she gave me the slip. Oh, yes, I protected you! I—I loved you, I thought you were an honest woman! And now! No wonder you did not want me to come here!”
She was scarcely conscious of what he said. She must get him away from here. Suppose Roy came! “Please, please go!” she cried out imploringly. “You mustn’t stay here! I—I am not trying to—to escape. I will go with you.”
“Where?” he flung out.
“Anywhere,” she said brokenly. “I—I do not know. To—to the police, I suppose, from what you have said.”

“The police!” He laughed raucously. “Why do you think I had that hat hidden under my coat?”
“I do not know,” she answered helplessly.
“Because,—he was close to her now, and suddenly his hands closed fiercely on her arms—“because I have not forgotten that you saved my life last night—and because, God help me, I still love you! Do you understand?—I love you! And I don’t know what to do!”
She closed her eyes. When she looked again he had thrown himself into the desk chair, and his head was buried in his arms outflung across the desk. She laid her hand timidly upon his shoulder.
“I do not know how you came to be at there tonight,” she whispered. “But would it help any, could you believe me, if I told you I am not—not a thief, or—or a criminal? But, please, anyway, do not let us stay here!”
He looked up at her, ignoring her pleading to leave the house—as though, indeed, he had never heard it. There was torment in his eyes.
“If any man had told me this about you,” he said in strangled tones, “I think I should have killed him. But I was there at that house tonight—myself. It was I who was behind that portiere in the library with a policeman! I know that, unless you were one of the gang, yes, and one of the Big Shot’s gang, you could never have known anything about Murkman’s house, or his wall safe, or have been there tonight—for I set and baited the trap.”
She stared at him wildly. In the face of what he was saying, all else, Roy, everything, was for the moment swept from her mind.
“It was a trap I arranged to get the Big Shot’s gang. When I was held in the house I overheard Battie Rost and Skinny talking about Murkman’s. Skinny was going to blow the safe. I heard enough to know that Murkman’s valet was the inside man and something about the basement window being fixed.”
“I fixed it up with Murkman and got help from my friend, Lieutenant Klinger. Murkman agreed to a trip, taking his man Hettin, but beforehand to adroitly arrange it so that Hettin got hold of the combination to the safe. This he did by asking Hettin to bring him some papers in his desk where he could not help but note the combination.”
“We didn’t know whether Hettin would fall for the combination ‘plant’ or not—and in one sense it did not matter. Our subject was to get quick action. He didn’t know who Skinny was, and we had been unable to find out anything about him, but we were sure that, after last night, he would have run to cover.”
“If he was the only man they had who could crack a safe the job might be delayed; whereas, with nothing to do but open the safe, any one of the gang could take Skinny’s place—and there probably would be no time lost in someone’s doing so.”
“We knew that Hettin in any case would communicate with his go-between and the Big Shot’s gang to advise them of Mr. Murkman’s and his own departure, and he was given every opportunity to do so. Hettin, however, did fall for the combination. And we had made it so easy we got the woman of the gang. We got you!”

Another horror and new danger for Enid—tomorrow.

SCOTCH FARMERS AROUSED
Farmers of Scotland are aroused over serious conditions of agriculture, and mass meetings are being held in many parts of the country. Ten thousand farm owners and farm workers attended a mass demonstration recently at Perth and passed a resolution demanding that the government immediately convene a joint conference of all parties to evolve plans to stabilize agriculture. More than 200 agriculturalists from all parts of the borders held a mass meeting at Kelso and passed a resolution similar to that ratified at Perth. James Fife, of Wigtown and Central Banffshire have added their voices to the national protest, and demonstrations have been held at Cupar, Stranraer and Keith, and other places.

TRIANGLE SCHOOL WINS MOST POINTS IN DISTRICT MEET

Theresa Stoffel Wins First in Arithmetic, Spelling Tests

Kaukauna—More than 250 rural school pupils were at the Outagamie Rural Normal school Thursday to take part in the district elimination track and field meet preparatory to the annual county rural school meet at Appleton on May 23. Many of the schools came to the city in a body Thursday morning and held a picnic dinner on the school lawn at noon.

Pupils of Combined Locks took advantage of the affair to make a few dollars for their Washington trip in June. A stand was erected and candy and pop were sold. Ella DeGroth and Mildred Vandenberg were in charge of the stand. Miss C. Hoolihan is teacher of the school.

Theresa Stoffel of the Triangle rural school won the arithmetic and spelling intelligence test. Students of the Triangle school won most points. Lester Spice of Oak Grove won second place in the intelligence test, and Miss Alice Krueger of Fernwood third place.

Winners in the athletic contests were:

75-yd dash for girls—Lydia Wulterkins, Combined Locks; Marie Weigand, Whispering Pines; and Henrietta Boyce, Woodlawn.

Standing broad jump for girls—Theresa (Stoffel), Triangle; Murella VanHovel, Hermiston; and Henrietta Boyce, Woodlawn.

Baseball throw for distance for girls—Murella VanHovel, Hermiston; Isabelle Smith, Combined Locks; Helen Boettcher Ellendale.

Chinning the bar—George Vissers, Hermiston; Norbert Huss, Fernwood; Herbert Stein, Holy Angels.

100-yd dash for boys—Delbert Huss, Fernwood; Hubertus Mueller, Triangle; Franklin Mueller, Woodlawn.

Standing broad jump—Hubertus Mueller, Triangle; Delbert Huss, Fernwood; Raymond Thyssen Ellendale.

Running broad jump—Delbert Huss, Fernwood; Clarence VanHoven, Combined Locks; LaVern Van Dyke, Little Chute.

Baseball throw for accuracy for boys—Orville Sievert, Maple Grove; Samuel Davis, Ashwaubena.

Balancing test—Three tied, Eleanor Eisch, Triangle; Phyllis Van Dyke, Little Chute; Dorothy Rogers Badger.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT AT FESTIVAL PROGRAM

Kaukauna—Several hundred persons witnessed the May festival of the public schools presented Thursday evening at the high school auditorium. About 150 pupils took part in the production which was directed by Miss Barbara Baldwin, city schools music instructor. Many unusual and colorful costumes featured the presentation. About 50 characters were grade school pupils and about 60 high school students. The two high school orchestras also took part.

75-yd dash for girls—Lydia Wulterkins, Combined Locks; Marie Weigand, Whispering Pines; and Henrietta Boyce, Woodlawn.

PLACE NEW BOOKS ON LIBRARY LIST

Majority of Volumes Are Fiction, Acting Librarian Reports

Kaukauna—New books for adults have been received at the library and have been put into circulation, according to Miss Bell, acting city librarian.

They are: "Birds Got to Fly," by Ruth Blodgett. Miss Blodgett has a fresh and humorous observation; she exhibits an abounding interest in people, certainly the most welcome interest in novel writing.

"Young Man of Manhattan" by Katherine Brush. Miss Brush has achieved popularity more rapidly than any young American novelist. Her books have been widely praised and enjoyed because of their zest and beauty.

"Courts of the Morning" by John Buchan. Lovers of stirring tales of adventure will recognize this as one of Buchan's best.

"Fun With Figures" by A. F. Collins. In this book Mr. Collins describes a variety of games and amusements based upon the use of arithmetic in stunt ways.

"A Wild Bird" by Maud Diver. The heroine in this book, longing for freedom, for leave to go her own way to enjoy the independence her father had made possible for her, learns that there is no going your own way, because no way, in a world of interdependence, can be entirely your own.

"The First Mrs. Fraser, a Comedy in Three Acts" by St. John Ervine. Mr. Ervine has created a vigorous character and a delightful one; she is more than a match for them all, her husband and his second wife, her bachelor, two sons, a daughter in law, and a romantic sailor maid.

"The Cartwright Murder" by J. S. Fletcher. A typical yarn, with thrilling action racing in and out along the trail of his mystery.

Why waste two hours doing a TEN-SECOND JOB?

Treat seed potatoes with Semesan Bel. Saves time and labor. Increases yields.

Time spent treating seed potatoes by old-fashioned, mussy soak methods to control surface seed-borne diseases, is time wasted. When such treatment methods are used, every lot of seed must be soaked from an hour and a half to two hours. The job is slow and tiresome. Sometimes severe seed injury occurs during soaking.

Now you can treat your seed potatoes instantly, easily, safely! By using Du Bay Semesan Bel, the instantaneous dip disinfectant, you can do the old two-hour job of seed treatment in 10 seconds or less. Just dip your seed potatoes, and plant. That is all! No soaking, no risk of seed injury, and no costly equipment necessary. With this quick method, one man alone can easily treat as much as 400 bushels of seed potatoes a day.

Increases yield per acre
Because Semesan Bel dip treatment of seed potatoes destroys surface-borne infections of Rhizoctonia, scab and black leg, better field stands and bigger yields result from seed which has been given this protection.

A report in the January (1930) issue of Phytopathology shows that Semesan Bel treatment of clean seed produced an increase of 58.2 bushels per acre in 1928 Maine tests. When tested on diseased seed during 1926 and 1927, this instantaneous dip gave an average yield increase of 53.6 bushels per acre.

In Grant County, N. Dakota, Semesan Bel dip treatment increased potato yields from 10 to 24% per acre. In a test in Adams County, Wisconsin, Semesan Bel (formerly known as Dip Dust) increased the yield by 11.4 bushels per acre.

Reporting on seed treatment tests, Bulletin 405 of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station says: "With few exceptions the plants germinated more rapidly and made more vigorous early growth where Dip Dust or Semesan Bel was used." This treatment also increased the yield, the bulletin states.

Certified seed needs treatment
Do not think seed is completely free of disease, because it is certified. Dr. Wm. H. Martin, of the New Jersey Experiment Station, said in the American Produce Grower, that there is no state which does not permit at least 10% of scab and Rhizoctonia in certified seed.

By treating all your seed with Semesan Bel, you can guard your crop against these diseases.

Improves sweet potato yields
Semesan Bel treatment also improves sweet potato yields by controlling surface-borne black rot and scurf or soil stain. Just treat the seed and dip the sprouts before setting.

Economical, easy treatment
One pound of Semesan Bel will treat from 16 bushels of small seed to 22 bushels of large seed potatoes. So it costs little when used easily according to simple directions. Ask your dealer for a copy of our free new Semesan Bel pamphlet. Or, write to Bayer-Semesan Company, Inc., 105 Hudson St., New York, N. Y.

Of Interest To Farmers

START TREATING POTATO SEED FOR NORTHERN FARMERS

Oconto-co Agent Took Care of 3,650 Bushels Last Year

BY W. F. WINSEY
Oconto—County Agent J. I. Etheridge started his work of treating late seed potatoes at the Lena Cheese Factory on Tuesday, to control scab, blackleg and black scurf. Last season, he treated 3,650 bushels for 56 farmers and expects to break that record the present season. He uses the hot formaldehyde treatment at a cost of 14 cents per bushel for the farmers to pay and carries a tank on a truck and pipe connections for hooking up with the hot water boilers of cheese factories. On Friday he will treat potatoes at the Liberty Cheese Factory and will be working to the limit of capacity throughout the month of May.

He prefers to have potatoes treated two or three weeks before planting and to have the potatoes spread out in the air and whatever sun light is available on a barn floor after treatment. When potato seed is so spread out after treatment, they develop sturdy sprouts that do not break off in the cutting of the seed or in planting and which set the growth of the plants and the harvest several days ahead of potatoes planted without the sturdy sprouts.

To produce a quality crop that shows up well at county and state fairs and that is in strong demand in the markets, Mr. Etheridge selects seed of the right size and type and abhors bin run culls and diseased potatoes. To carry out his plan he is inducing the potato growers of Oconto county to reserve seed growing plots in their potato fields where they plant the choicest certified seed and from which they arise their own seed and a surplus for the market. While good seed produces good potatoes and in that way is a great advantage to farmers, it also prevents a type of potatoes from deteriorating and finally running out.

After the seed is carefully selected and treated the next step in producing a big yield of quality potatoes is crop of sweet clover, planted on the field to be used later for raising potatoes. Mr. Etheridge suggests cutting the first crop high so as not to kill the roots, leave the crop on the ground and plowing it and the second growth under in the fall. He also suggests a top dressing of manure that has stood for a time in a pile. He would have the seed bed worked well before planting to kill weeds and preserve moisture and after planting for the same purpose.

At the time of planting, Mr. Etheridge says that if he were raising potatoes for the market he would apply 3-12-12 commercial fertilizer to his field at the rate of from 600 to 1,000 pounds per acre, near the hills. Experiments who have tested Mr. Etheridge plan who give considerable attention to spraying have reported yields of quality stock ranging from 300 to 600 bushels per acre.

Before trying Mr. Etheridge's suggestions for raising potatoes farmers should decide definitely just what quality and yield they want and afterward adopt enough of his plan to assure that quality and yield.

If a farmer is contented with a crop of scrubby potatoes and a yield of from 25 to 50 bushels per acre all he has to do is to plow his field, plant his cull, diseased seed, spray his vines and harvest his meager crop. But if on the other hand he wishes to do big things he must plant perfect seed, treat his seed, feed his crop and control weeds and pests.

thrifty. He expects to watch the seed closely to detect a possible invasion of maggot flies. He says the flies are about the size of a common housefly but slimmer. They may be seen by close examination about the plants on the ground where they lay their eggs. As they dart about very quickly it is difficult to see or to keep track of them on wing. By digging about a plant where a fly has been distributed clusters of tiny white eggs may be seen or later the maggots may be found on the roots of the cabbage plant at first not much larger than the point of a pin. A wilted cabbage plant often indicates the work of maggots at the root of the plant.

Maggots and eggs may be destroyed and the bed saved by the application of a solution of one ounce of corrosive sublimate in eight gallons of water applied to the rows of cabbage at the rate of one gallon to 25 feet of a row. To destroy the maggots and eggs the solution must come in contact with the maggots and eggs. To prevent the solution running off on the ground instead of soaking down above the roots of the cabbage plants the bed should be cultivated before the poison is applied. Four days after the first treatment another application is necessary to catch the second batch of maggots.

The apparatus required to apply the poison to the rows of plants consists of a canny pail with a quarter inch tube near the bottom extending through the side of the pail. A quarter inch rubber hose is forced into the outside end of the tube which conducts the poison from the pail to the cabbage plants. The operator carries the tool on one arm and with his free hand holds the rubber tube and directs the poison onto the row of plants. The apparatus may be constructed in a few minutes time.

It will be well for inexperienced growers to watch their cabbage beds closely this spring to prevent maggot damage to the plants.

Mr. Pellegri expects to plant six acres of potatoes this spring and in increasing his yield of potatoes even more of cabbage. He expects to apply it again this year in considerable quantities.

WATCHES CABBAGE FOR MAGGOT FLIES

Pests Are Size of Common House Fly, but Are Slimmer

A wilted cabbage plant often indicates the work of maggots at the root of the plant.

Maggots and eggs may be destroyed and the bed saved by the application of a solution of one ounce of corrosive sublimate in eight gallons of water applied to the rows of cabbage at the rate of one gallon to 25 feet of a row. To destroy the maggots and eggs the solution must come in contact with the maggots and eggs. To prevent the solution running off on the ground instead of soaking down above the roots of the cabbage plants the bed should be cultivated before the poison is applied. Four days after the first treatment another application is necessary to catch the second batch of maggots.

The solution must be mixed, stored and applied to the rows in wooden receptacles as the solution deteriorates if it comes in contact with metal.

The apparatus required to apply the poison to the rows of plants consists of a canny pail with a quarter inch tube near the bottom extending through the side of the pail. A quarter inch rubber hose is forced into the outside end of the tube which conducts the poison from the pail to the cabbage plants. The operator carries the tool on one arm and with his free hand holds the rubber tube and directs the poison onto the row of plants. The apparatus may be constructed in a few minutes time.

It will be well for inexperienced growers to watch their cabbage beds closely this spring to prevent maggot damage to the plants.

Mr. Pellegri expects to plant six acres of potatoes this spring and in increasing his yield of potatoes even more of cabbage. He expects to apply it again this year in considerable quantities.
